Introduction

The present bilingual variable documentation is a supplement to the English Variable Report published for the national dataset.

The English Variable Report not only includes an extensive description of the data on study and variable level, but also contains frequency counts for almost all variables. It can be accessed through the GESIS Data Catalogue (<http://gesis.org/data-catalogue/>) and ZACAT-Online Study Catalogue (<http://zacat.gesis.org/>).

Bilingual Variable Documentation eases the work process by offering a direct comparison of questions as in English Master Questionnaire on one side, and language versions in field questionnaire on the other. What is more, for comparative analyses users can easily access this type of documentation provided for all participating countries. By this, exploration of communalities and differences in question wording across countries/cultural contexts is supported.

An overview of available documentation accessible for all countries can be found on the EVS website: <http://www.europeanvaluesstudy.eu/evs/surveys/survey-1999-2000/participatingcountries/>

The graphic below shows countries sharing one or more languages in the blue boxes. Languages marked red show shared languages.

Languages fielded in EVS 1999

| Integrated Dataset English Master Questionnaire | | | | | | |

| Austria German | Belarus Russian | Belgium Flemish/Dutch French | Bulgaria Bulgarian | Croatia Croatian | Czech Republic Czech | Denmark Danish |

| Netherlands Dutch | Northern Ireland English | Poland Polish | Portugal Portuguese | Romania Romanian | | Russian Russian |
| Slovenia Slovenian | Spain Spanish | Sweden Swedish | Slovak Republic Slovak | Turkey Turkish | Ukraine Ukrainian Russian | |

Comparisons between countries and language versions can be extended to the EVS 2008 for which bilingual documentation of national datasets is also available through the Data Catalogue and ZACAT.

Additionally, the Online Variable Overview, which also allows for identification of trend variables across EVS waves (1981, 1990, 1999, and 2008), is provided by the GESIS Data Archive.

Explanation of Bilingual Variable Documentation

In the following pages, the English/original language documentation is provided.

The left part of the page depicts the variable documentation according to the English Master Questionnaire. It displays question number and text, response categories and missing values, additional notes referring to data, as well as applied standards, information on coding and harmonized variables.

On the right hand side, variables are documented in the original language fielded in given country. Question number and text, as well as response categories and missing values are displayed in original (fielded) language(s). Notes on this side refer to deviations between master and field questionnaire, translation problems, typing errors, and references to original country-specific variables. Besides, a standard note is added concerning the recoding and documentation of missing values in the national datasets.

Missing values from field questionnaire were recoded into -1 to -5 in the datasets. Since the original language documentation was developed in cooperation between the participating countries, CEPS/Instead Luxembourg, and GESIS Data Archive, Cologne, the documentation of the missing values may differ from country to country. For some countries missing values have been adopted and translated directly from data, for others they were documented according to the respective field questionnaires.

Due to the different question format of v103 all respondents have been asked whether they were ever a member of a religious denomination. Empirical consequence: members of a denomination (v101=1) who did not change their denomination gave the same answer to v102 and v104. Answers have been corrected by comparison with v102.

| Additional filter on both answer categories in the field questionnaire (v294=1 go to v297; v294=2 go to v296) . Most of the interviewers obviously ignored this filter instruction. | Missing values from field questionnaire were recoded into -1 to -5 in the datasets. Since the original language documentation was developed in cooperation between the participating countries, CEPS/Instead Luxembourg, and GESIS Data Archive, Cologne, the documentation of the missing values may differ from country to country. For some countries missing values have been adopted and translated directly from data, for others they were documented according to the respective field questionnaires. |

| By following the additional filter from v294 of the Greek questionnaire none of the respondents with a valid code on v294 should have been asked v295; but: empirically the vast majority of interviewers obviously ignored the additional filter. | Missing values from field questionnaire were recoded into -1 to -5 in the datasets. Since the original language documentation was developed in cooperation between the participating countries, CEPS/Instead Luxembourg, and GESIS Data Archive, Cologne, the documentation of the missing values may differ from country to country. | 6 cohabiting | |

| Note: | |
| Response categories 6 and 7 were not included in Master Questionnaire but in several national data sets. Thus, for the integrated data set these additional response categories were adopted. | Missing values from field questionnaire were recoded into -1 to -5 in the datasets. Since the original language documentation was developed in cooperation between the participating countries, CEPS/Instead Luxembourg, and GESIS Data Archive, Cologne, the documentation of the missing values may differ from country to country. For some countries missing values have been adopted and translated directly from data, for others they were documented according to the respective field questionnaires. |

Due to the additional filter on v294 none of the respondents with v293=1 and v294=1 has been asked v296; hence, for these respondents the legal marital status has been inferred from v294. In 12 cases information on v294 and v296 contradicts each other: v294=married and v296= widowed.
