Standard & Special Eurobarometer surveys are conducted on behalf of the European Commission, under the responsibility of the Directorate-General Communication and on occasion requested by other departments according to the policy they deal with. From the outset the European Commission is generously granting access to Eurobarometer primary data for re-use in social science research and training.

The integrated original datasets and related materials are delivered by the respective survey research institute in charge of survey implementation and fieldwork co-ordination.

Preparation and documentation of Eurobarometer primary data for long term preservation and usability happen in a cooperative arrangement between the teams at Inter-University Consortium for Political and Social Research (ICPSR) and GESIS Data Archive for the Social Sciences.

Introduction and preliminary remarks

The variable reports of the Standard & Special Eurobarometer survey series offer a comprehensive description of the data on study and variable level. For each Eurobarometer individual variable reports are provided. The reports are structured into five sections: Section one provides the description of the respective Eurobarometer Study, including bibliographic information, abstract, methodological specifications, remarks on weighting and general notes on data preparation. Section two gives an historical overview of the Eurobarometer Survey Series, including the institutional background and the development of geographical and topical coverage. A third section provides general information about the structure of Eurobarometer datasets, documentation standards and variable coding frames. Section four explains the details of the 'Variable Documentation' part in the following section five, which is the documentation of the variables with the complete question texts and answer categories of the master questionnaire and the corresponding archival remarks on data preparation or inconsistencies, if applicable. In addition, this variable report contains frequency counts, by country (sample), for almost all variables. These frequencies are based on weighted data using the adequate post-stratification weight, if applicable and as indicated in each table.

Data access

Primary data for statistical analysis and related documentation (basic bilingual questionnaires, national field questionnaire versions and variable reports) are made available online by GESIS (<http://zacat.gesis.org>), by the Inter-university Consortium for Political and Social Research through the ICPSR membership network, and through all Social Science Data Archives members of the Council of European Social Science Data Archives (CESSDA).

Usage requirement

To provide funding agencies with essential information about use of archival resources and to facilitate the exchange of information about related research activities, users of the data are requested to send to ICPSR or GESIS respectively bibliographic citations for each completed manuscript or thesis abstract. Please indicate in a cover letter which data (surveys and respective variables) were used.

1.2.1 Abstract

This round of Eurobarometer surveys queried respondents on a few standard Eurobarometer measures such as whether they attempted to persuade others close to them to share their views on subjects they held strong opinions about, whether they discussed political matters, and how they viewed the need for societal change, but the primary focus of the surveys was on employment, unemployment, and gender equality. During the fieldwork for Eurobarometer 44.3 (see EUROBAROMETER 44.3: HEALTH CARE ISSUES AND PUBLIC SECURITY, FEBRUARY-APRIL 1996 [ICPSR 6752]), an oversample (approximately 300 per country) of unemployed persons and housewives/househusbands, aged 15 years and over, was added to the basic sample and subsequently administered an additional set of questions. Students and retired were excluded from the oversample.

Respondents who were employed or self-employed were asked questions concerning their job titles, the ratio of women to men holding the same title, number of people employed at their workplaces, how long they were continuously employed/self-employed, how they found out about their jobs, the type of organizations for which they worked, the number of hours worked, job satisfaction, the type of communication equipment used, and the circumstances under which they would reduce their hours or take unpaid leave. Employed and self-employed respondents were asked about the pay, training, skill level, variety, amount, pressure, and interest involved in their work. They also compared their jobs with jobs they were doing five years ago. Non-self-employed workers provided additional information regarding their level of involvement in decisions that affected their jobs, existence of promotional opportunities, indices of pay raises or dismissal, likelihood of leaving their jobs, and commitment to their current employers.

Questions posed to unemployed respondents covered how long they had been unemployed, their former occupation, reasons for leaving their last position, and whether they had received any compensation. They were also asked if they were looking for a job, what approaches they used to find a job, the amount of time spent looking for a job, problems in trying to find a job, whether they would consider a position requiring different skills, a lower level of skills, worse physical conditions, or different hours, or if they would relocate. These respondents also indicated whether they had experienced boredom, depression, family tensions, loss of self-confidence, not enough money, increased difficulty in rearing children, or lack of contact with people as a result of being unemployed.

All respondents were asked questions concerning gender equality. Respondents were asked to assess the current work situation for women with respect to wages, job security, promotional opportunities, and the number and variety of jobs available. Respondents were also asked to evaluate reasons why women less often held positions of responsibility and to prioritize areas of action to be taken to remedy existing inequalities. Respondents also rated the impact of women's working on the well-being of men, children, women, families, and couples.

Demographic data collected on respondents include gender, age, nationality, marital status, occupation, income, left-right political self-placement, age at completion of education, number of people in household, number of children under 15 in household, subjective size of community, and region of residence.

1.3 Universe

In all, Eurobarometer 44.3OVR comprises a total of 20.679 respondents, citizens of the 15 countries in the European Union (nationals and non-nationals but EU-citizens), aged 15 and over. It includes an oversample of unemployed ('job seekers') collected in all member states, except for Luxembourg and Northern Ireland.

1.4 Sampling procedure

The basic sample design applied in all member states is a multi-stage, random (probability) one. In each EU country a number of sampling points was drawn with probability proportional to population size (for a total coverage of the country) and to population density.

Sampling points were drawn systematically from all 'administrative regional units' after stratification by individual unit and type of area. They thus represent the whole territory of the Member States according to the EUROSTAT-NUTS II (or equivalent) and according to the distribution of the national, resident population in terms of metropolitan, urban, and rural areas. In each of the selected sampling points a starting address was drawn at random. Further addresses were selected as every Nth address by standard random route procedures. In each household the respondent was drawn at random.

Separate samples were drawn in former West Germany and former East Germany, as well as for Great Britain and Northern Ireland. The target sample size for the basic sample is about 1000 respondents per country, except for Luxembourg (500) and Northern Ireland (300).

During the fieldwork for Eurobarometer 44.3 (see EUROBAROMETER 44.3: HEALTH CARE ISSUES AND PUBLIC SECURITY, FEBRUARY–APRIL 1996 [ICPSR 6752][ZA2829]), an oversample (approximately 300 per country) of unemployed persons and housewives/househusbands, aged 15 years and over, was added to the basic sample and subsequently administered an additional set of questions. Students and retired were excluded from the oversample. Also, there was no oversample for Luxembourg and Northern Ireland, and 14 cases from Luxembourg and 2 cases from Northern Ireland were dropped.

The selection of the oversample also followed the random-route procedure but differs in the procedure for the selection of the individual which was based on two questions: 'Is there anyone in the household who is currently without a paid job?' and 'Has this person been looking for work in the last four weeks?'. For Sweden the oversample was drawn randomly from the register of unemployed people. The size of the oversample amounts to about 300 respondents per country, excluding Luxembourg and Northern Ireland. The effective number of realized interviews in this dataset is indicated in table 1.

INRA calculated response rates as the percentage of the 'total number of completed interviews' over the 'total number of effective contacts' (in the addition of three visits, if needed). The response rate estimates considerably vary between countries:

1.6 Mode of data collection

All interviews were face-to-face in people's homes and in the appropriate national language in the framework of Eurobarometer 44.3. The questionnaire is structured according to the respective universe, i.e. group of persons to whom the results refer:

- Employment section (status self-reported codes 1 to 7 in Q.8 / V67): Q.10 to Q.41
 - employed: Q.26 to Q.35
 - self-employed: Q.36 to Q.41
- Unemployed section (status for the basic sample self-reported codes 8 or 9 in Q.8/V67, and code 1 in Q.56A / V247): Q.42 to Q.76
- All respondents: Q.77 ff.

1.7 Weighting

For each country a comparison between the sample and the proper universe description was carried out. This universe description was derived from EUROSTAT population data or from national statistics. For all EU-member-countries a national weighting procedure, using marginal and intercellular weighting, was carried out based on this universe description. As such in all countries, minimum sex, age, and (in most countries) region NUTS II were introduced in the iteration procedure.

For international weighting to provide EU averages INRA (EUROPE) applies the official population figures as published by EUROSTAT in the Regional Statistics Yearbook of 1989 or national CENSUS data.

NATION WEIGHTS (post-stratification sample weighting)

Nation Weights incorporate post-stratification adjustments based on crosstabulations of national populations by sex, age, region, and size of locality. For some countries additional variables were added, when considered necessary. WEIGHT RESULT FROM TARGET and WEIGHT ADJUSTED TO STANDARD SIZE are for use in descriptive separate analyses of individual countries (samples).

These standard nation weights all exclude the oversample.

WEIGHT RESULT FROM TARGET (V9) adjusts all samples to make them representative for the countries from which they were drawn. It reproduces the real number of basic sample cases for each EU country. Great Britain and Northern Ireland as well as East and West Germany are treated as separate samples. This weight corresponds to "NATION WEIGHT II" in earlier Eurobarometer surveys up to wave 31. Oversample cases are suppressed (weighted by zero).

WEIGHT ADJUSTED TO STANDARD SIZE (V10) corresponds to 'WEIGHT RESULT FROM TARGET' and is supposed to adjust all samples to the standard sample size of about 1000 for Austria, Belgium, Denmark, East Germany, West Germany, Finland, France, Greece, Great Britain, Italy, Ireland, the Netherlands, Portugal, Sweden, and Spain, and 600 for Luxembourg and 300 for Northern Ireland. This is only approximately achieved for Eurobarometer 44.3OVR, probably due to the additional suppression of the oversample cases.

WEIGHT SPECIAL UNITED KINGDOM (V7) adjusts the British and Northern Irish samples to their respective proportions in the United Kingdom and should be used whenever the United Kingdom is to be analyzed as a whole. All post-stratification weights are included. Unlike the "NATION WEIGHT I" in earlier Eurobarometer surveys up to wave 31, this weight adjusts all samples to the approximate standard size (see WEIGHT ADJUSTED TO STANDRAD SIZE).

WEIGHT SPECIAL GERMANY (V12) adjusts the East and West German samples to their respective proportions in the united Germany. All post-stratification weights are included and all samples are adjusted to the approximate standard size (see WEIGHT ADJUSTED TO STANDRAD SIZE). This weight should be applied whenever the United Germany (East+West) is analyzed as a whole.

EUROPEAN WEIGHTS (international population size weighting)

The European weights are provided for the use in analyses of the European Community as whole and in accordance with its historical composition. They all include post-stratification weights for each sample and unlike former "EUROPEAN WEIGHT" up to wave 31, the adjustment to an approximate (total) standard sample size (see WEIGHT ADJUSTED TO STANDRAD SIZE).

These standard European weights all exclude the oversample.

WEIGHT EU 15 (V19) refers to the group of ALL EU member countries after the 1995 enlargement. WEIGHT EUROPE NMS 3 (V18) separates the group of three new members at times, Austria, Sweden and Finland.

WEIGHT EU 12 (V16) excludes Austria, Sweden and Finland from the EU 15 group; unlike WEIGHT EU 12, WEIGHT EU 12+ (V17) includes East Germany; WEIGHT EU10 (V15) in addition excludes Spain and Portugal (enlargement 1986); WEIGHT EU9 (V14) in addition excludes Greece (enlargement 1981).

WEIGHT EU 6 (V13) refers to the six EC founder members: France, Belgium, Netherlands, West Germany, Italy, and Luxembourg. All other samples are excluded from calculation.

ADDITIONAL SUBGROUP WEIGHTS

Separate weights have been constructed for the subgroup of people in work (EMPLOYED) and for the combined JOB SEEKERS subgroups, using figures extracted from the European Labour Force Survey (LFS) results 1995 (source: EUROSTAT). For the subgroup of people in work, the weighting variables include sex, age, occupation (ISCO) and sector of activity (NACE). Region was included for Belgium, West and East Germany, France, Greece, the Netherlands, Italy, Portugal, Spain, and the United Kingdom. For the subgroup of the job seekers, the weighting variables minimum include sex, age, previous occupation (ISCO) and previous sector of activity (NACE). There was no ISCO data available for Sweden and the Finnish ISCO data was from 1993 (source: Statistics Finland). The separate German jobseekers samples for East and West Germany have been weighted using the overall country (united Germany) statistics.

All additional weights do include the oversample.

WEIGHT A (V20–V22): Firstly a set of weights was provided for the EMPLOYED extracted from the basic sample (Codes 1–7 in Q8 = section A). These weights correspond to questions Q.26 to Q.41.

WEIGHT B (V23-V26): Secondly two sets of weights were provided for JOB SEEKERS extracted from the basic sample plus oversample (Codes 8-9 in Q8 and code 1 in Q56a = Section B), considering the previous situation before becoming unemployed or housewife/househusband (Q43). WEIGHT B1 considers three subgroups: 1) seeking after loss/leaving job, 2) seeking first job and 3) seeking work after inactivity. For WEIGHT B2 subgroups 2 and 3 are considered as a whole. These weights correspond to questions Q.42 to Q.76.

WEIGHT C (V27-V34): In the third stage put the employed, the job seekers and the inactives all together (= total file), whereupon the inactives include three subgroups: 1) permanently unable to work, 2) full time students, and 3) retired. The oversample by definition does not include any inactive people. Weight C regroups the three the employed (A), the job seekers (B) and the inactives, whereupon the second version (C2) in addition provides detailed adjustments according to ISCO codes for A and B, if available. These weights correspond to the questions which have not only been asked to the subgroups of employed or unemployed respectively job seekers.

1.8 Data preparation

The data received by ICPSR from INRA (Europe) were checked for missing and duplicate records, for illegal (wild) codes and for consistency of response patterns. Errors discovered by these procedures were corrected or noted in this codebook. When possible, indices and other derived summary variables were also checked and corrected as necessary. The indices supplied with this Eurobarometer include C.1, C.4, C.5, and C.14. All indices were checked and verified with the exception of C.5, which is provided as supplied by the data producer. Specific information for verification of this index was not provided. Complete machine-readable documentation was also created for this data set by ICPSR.

ICPSR has either added "<NA>" codes to indicate responses that had no code values in the original data (system missing values) or recoded variables to the "<NA>" value if the variable had been inappropriately coded. Illegal (wild) codes which ICPSR has been unable to document have been labeled as "<Undocumented Code>" where they appear in this codebook. Users should also note that on occasion the number of responses to a particular question may exceed the maximum indicated in the interviewer instructions.

Question text and contingency text appearing in this codebook and ICPSR's machine-readable documentation is taken from INRA (Europe)'s English language version of the questionnaire. Whenever a discrepancy occurs between INRA (Europe)'s codebook and its English language questionnaire as to the coding scheme of a variable, the former is followed in the ICPSR documentation.

2 Eurobarometer Series Description

2.1 Series name

The Standard and Special Eurobarometer (a.k.a. Euro-Barometer) Survey Series

2.2 Series information

The Standard and Special Eurobarometer surveys are the products of a unique program of cross-national and cross-temporal survey research. The effort began in early 1970, when the Commission of the European Communities sponsored simultaneous surveys of the publics of the European Community. In general they are carried out in spring and fall of each year. Three pilot studies were conducted in 1970, 1971 and 1973 under the header of European Communities Studies; "Attitudes towards Europe" (GESIS id ZA0078), the very first comparative survey across European Communities founder members in 1962, can be seen as an early forerunner. The primary data of the first explicit Eurobarometer, conducted in spring 1974, have not been preserved.

2.3 Principal investigators and institutional background

The Eurobarometer program was initially launched and managed until 1986 by Jacques-René Rabier, head of the Commission's press and information directorate and afterwards special advisor to the Commission of the European Communities. He counted with the political support of the European Parliament and the close co-operation of Ronald Inglehart. The political scientist at the University of Michigan was then developing his theory of value change in modern societies and his materialist/post-materialist items would become integral part of the Eurobarometer until the mid nineties. Between 1987 and 1996 the program was continued and considerably enlarged under the direction of Karlheinz Reif, since 1993 together with Anna Melich.

Anna Melich took over the Eurobarometer direction from 1997 to 1999, by then still within the organizational framework of the former Directorate-General X, Public Opinion Surveys and Research Unit. In 2000/2002 Eurobarometer were intermittently conducted in the framework of the DG Education and Culture, Citizens' Centre - Analysis of Public Opinion under the direction of Harald Hartung, and starting with Eurobarometer 54 under DG Press and Communication, initially directed by Thomas Christensen. Since 1999 the organisation and supervision of the surveys were consecutively executed by Rubén Mohedano-Brèthes (until 2002) and Renaud Soufflot de Magny (until 2006), with Antonis Papcostas as head of unit between 2003 and 2010.

The main survey results are regularly published on the European Commission's Public Opinion website in official standard and special topic reports.

2.4 Development of geographical and population coverage

In all European Union (formerly "European Communities") member countries Standard Eurobarometer samples were initially drawn among the national population, aged 15 and over. Starting with Eurobarometer 41.1 the target population is the population of any nationality of an European Union member country, aged 15 years and over, resident in any of the Member States. For test purposes Eurobarometer 41.0 included a non-national European Union citizens oversample.

Eurobarometer regularly include all member countries, starting with the six founder members and in accordance with the subsequent enlargement process. Norway has been in-officially included in selected waves between 1989 (EB34) and 1996 (EB46), Finland started before the actual enlargement in 1993 (EB39.0), and a few Swiss Eurobarometer were run in parallel to selected waves or topics starting in 1999 (EB51.1) in Switzerland. Candidate Countries (CC) and Accession Countries (AC) for the Eastern enlargement process were first surveyed in the Candidate Countries Eurobarometer series (2001–2004) and then all included in the standard series, even before accession as in the cases of Turkey or Macedonia.

Additional samples are drawn for Great Britain and Northern Ireland almost from the start, in Germany (East and West) after the re-unification in 1989, and in Cyprus for the Turkish Cypriote Community (Northern Cyprus) since 2004 for selected standard and topical waves.

The regular standard sample size (in the sense of completed interviews) in Eurobarometer surveys is 1000 respondents per country, except small countries like Luxembourg or Malta. The 44.2bis MEGA-survey increased the standard sample up to 6000 respondents (for the largest countries) in order to achieve more confidence for analysis on sub-national level.

Oversamples have been drawn intermittently if required by the topic, i.e. to ensure that there are enough members of the relevant population subgroup to report sufficiently reliable estimates. Intentionally more people are selected from the respective group than would typically be done if everyone in the sample had an equal chance of being selected.

2.5 Standard question program and special topics

Standard Eurobarometer surveys were designed to provide a regular monitoring of the social and political attitudes among the European publics, to obtain regular readings of support for European integration, public awareness of and attitudes toward European unification, the institutions of the European Community / European Union, and its policies in complementary fashion. Attitudes toward the organization and role of the European Parliament and electoral behavior became a major topic in pre- and post- European Elections times. The standard program was complemented by measures of general socio-political orientations, of subjective satisfaction and the perceived quality of life, or of cultural, national and European identities.

Intermittently Standard Eurobarometer have investigated SPECIAL TOPICS, such as agriculture, biotechnology, energy, environment, family planning, gender roles, health related issues, immigration, poverty and social exclusion, regional identity, science and technology, information society, working conditions, urban traffic, knowledge of languages etc. In the case of some supplementary studies, special youth and elderly samples have been drawn (see table 4).

Starting with Eurobarometer 34 (1990) additional supplementary surveys on special issues have been conducted under each main wave number, identified by dot-separated sub-numbers for each individual survey. Usually only one survey per main wave includes the standard and trend module with focus on European integration issues. The following list (table 5) identifies the surveys containing the standard module and with results reported in the corresponding official standard report, or which at least include a subset of standard indicators, or with focus on European integration in a special topic context (e.g. "The future of Europe" in Eurobarometer 65.1).

3 Dataset structure and standards

Standard and Special Eurobarometer are processed and documented by the Inter-university Consortium for Political and Social Research (ICPSR) and by the GESIS Data Archive department in accordance with agreed standards, which may in some details diverge from the usual ICPSR or GESIS archive standards. In addition and as long as reasonable it was adhered to standards once established for the Eurobarometer series in the course of the years.

3.1 Dataset structure

In general the variable structure of the analysis dataset is aligned to the basic bilingual questionnaire, preceded by a set of technical variables. These comprise the archive identification variables (archive study and version id), the survey identification variables (wave and unique respondent id), and several standard NATION variables identifying the different samples (countries or regions) and relevant groups of samples in the dataset with the corresponding WEIGHT variables provided by the fieldwork institutes (see 1.7). A special alphanumeric NATION variable is provided based on the ISO 3166 country code standard for the purpose of breaking down variables by sample in terms of clearly summarized cross-tabulations.

The questionnaire variables usually consist of three types, the substantial questions (Q), the Eurobarometer standard demographics (D) and the interview protocol variables (P). The dataset is concluded by constructed index variables (C), usually as provided by the fieldwork institute, by a questionnaire SPLIT variable if applicable, and by further original identification variables.

Variable names consist of the standard prefix 'V' and the consecutive variable number, except ISOCNTRY and VERSION variables if subsequently added to older datasets. Variable labels are standardized in the sense that they provide keywords based on the question text and that these keywords are applied consistently if questions or question items are repeated over time (trend variables). Variable label may include abbreviations if required, e.g. limitations regarding the length of variable labels in older versions of statistical analysis software. Starting with Eurobarometer 33 the variable labels include the respective question number as a reference to the basic bilingual questionnaire.

3.2 Coding frames

By general rule, the variables adopt the coding frame as specified in the basic bilingual questionnaire, except multiple response questions (see 1.8), questions with country specific answer categories and missing values.

3.2.1 Country specific answer categories

Eurobarometer include some questions (variables) with country specific answer categories like INCOME, SIZE OF COMMUNITY, REGION or variables related to VOTING BEHAVIOUR with reference to POLITICAL PARTIES. Until Eurobarometer 48 only one integrated variable is supplied with each category representing country specific meanings (e.g. geographic regions) which are not documented within the analysis dataset by means of value labels, but only in the extended variable description in the variable report. Starting with Eurobarometer 49 the integrated variables are retained but complemented by completely labeled country specific variables. The country specific coding schemes and categories are maintained as a standard over time as long as the category schemes provided in the questionnaire are remain comparable.

Special attention is given to the coding of POLITICAL PARTIES in voting behavior variables such as VOTE INTENTION or LAST VOTE based on a standard coding scheme, originally developed for the Eurobarometer by Ronald Inglehart.

Starting with Euro-Barometer 2 the coding of this variable has been standardized following an approximate ordering of each country's political parties along a "left" to "right" continuum in the first digit of the codes. Parties coded 01-39 are generally considered on the "left", those coded 40-49 in the "centre", and those coded 60-89 on the "right" of the political spectrum. Parties coded 50-59 cannot be readily located in the traditional meaning of "left" and "right". The second digit of the codes is not significant to the "left-right" ordering. Codes 90-99 contain the response "other party" and various missing data responses. Major "party families" like the Social Democrats or Conservatives have been assigned identical values across countries, if possible.

From Eurobarometer 69.2 onwards, the "party family" harmonization approach has been sharpened following and updating the coding scheme developed by ZEUS for the Mannheim Eurobarometer Trend File. This ZEUS Code of Party Families is country specific, i.e. the categories have different meanings for different countries. It has three digits: The first represents the party family, the second and third identify an individual party in this family. Individual parties are coded consistently over time. The assignment of parties to families is done according to their overall ideological orientations.

Table 7: ZEUS Party Family Code (slightly modified)

Category		Party Family
0	(001-099)	not affiliated / electoral alliances across "families"
1	(100-199)	Communists
2	(200-299)	Socialists
3	(300-399)	Liberals
4	(400-499)	Christian Democrats
5	(500-599)	Conservatives
6	(600-699)	Extreme Rights / Nationalists
7	(700-799)	Regionalists / Ethnic
8	(800-899)	Environmental parties
9	(900-949)	Agricultural parties
9	(950-989)	other special issue parties (e.g. Eurosceptics) and independents
	990	other (spontaneous)
	994	not voting age
	995	empty ballot (blank) or invalid vote
	996	not voted / would not vote
	997	Refused
	998	DK / DK+NA if NA not coded separately
	999	INAP (inappropriate)

If available, the former standard category used up to Eurobarometer 61 is always referenced in the variable description. Due to general changes in party systems and to the ideological development of individual political parties, the assignment of parties to party families cannot claim general validity. Users may modify these codings or part of these codings in order to suit their specific needs.

3.2.2 Missing values

In general missing value codes are defined in accordance with the standard once established for the Eurobarometer series, in particular the default use of whatever value supplied by the basic questionnaire for DK ("don't know") responses, unless a standard coding scheme is applied for demographic or protocol variables. The value 0 is applied for NA (i.e. "not ascertained" resp. "no answer") and the value 9 (99, 999, ...) for INAP (i.e. "inappropriate" resp. "not applicable"). If one of these values falls into the valid range of codes, the missing values are shifted to the next available missing value code or "level", e.g. if 0 is used in a dichotomous variable (NOT MENTIONED), value 9 is used for NA, respectively value 8 if value 9 is already used for INAP. If necessary the corresponding two- or more digit codes are used (99, 999, 98, 998 ...). Recently separate missing values are coded for INAP depending on whether the respondent was not asked a question due to questionnaire routing (filter non-response) or whether the question was not provided for in the country's field questionnaire. Other missing values (e.g. REFUSAL) are coded with the in each case next available code (e.g. 7, 97, 997, ...). In the analysis data set these codes are by default declared and treated as USER MISSING, but may be modified by the user to suit specific needs.

3.3 International documentation standard

The variable documentation is set up in accordance with the international metadata specifications for the social and behavioural sciences, established by the Data Documentation Initiative <DDI>. The variable reports are based on the XML representation of DDI version 2. The documentation combines the exact wording and sequence of question components (question text, interviewer instruction, response categories, etc.) from the basic bilingual (master) questionnaire with the variable description (variable name, values, and labels) of the analysis dataset. General remarks and comments referring to a certain variable are defined as variable notes. Notes can be references to trend (comparability) information, standards applied for coding frames, problems in questionnaire translation, but also references to data problems or other specific characteristics.

4 Explanation of the variable documentation

The variable documentation part describes each variable in the analysis data file in terms of relevant metadata and frequency distributions. The variable documentation is set up by means of the GESIS Dataset Documentation Manager (DSDM) and in accordance with international metadata standards (DDI-Codebook/XML).

In general, the following abbreviations are used to indicate countries or (sub-national) areas. As far as applicable, the ISO 3166-1 alpha-2 country codes have been applied and coded accordingly in the alphanumeric sample identification variable (NATION – ALL SAMPLES ISO 3166).

AT	Austria	HR	Croatia
BE	Belgium	HU	Hungary

The example explained below reproduces the information appearing in the variable documentation part for a typical substantive variable. Results are usually broken down by country (sample) or represented by frequency counts in the case of country specific variables. In the case of variables with long lists of coded "real" values (e.g. age), results are only presented for the corresponding categorized variable, if available. The content and construction of technical, administrative or other generated variables is described as appropriate.

Given the special sample and questionnaire structure in the case of Eurobarometer 44.3OVR and unlike other Eurobarometer variable reports, the frequencies for substantive variables are calculated on the base of UNWEIGHTED data. Please see chapter 1.7 for an overview and a detailed description of the weights provided for different subgroups of respondents.

The complete question and answer texts are taken from the English language part of the respective basic bilingual questionnaire (master questionnaire) as provided by the coordinating fieldwork institute.

CROSS-TABULATION: The absolute frequencies of the occurrence of values (absolute values) refer to the number of cases in the weighted (EB 44.3OVR: UNWEIGHTED) dataset as indicated, in this case weighted by V8 . The relative frequencies (row percent) refer to the valid cases (n valid sum), i.e. the total number of cases (n sum) reduced by the number of cases defined as missing data (M). For display and place saving reasons excluded countries or areas may be completely dropped from the table.
FREQUENCY COUNTS: For country specific variables relative frequencies are calculated in- and excluding missing data (M), i.e. percent on the basis of all cases (sum) and valid percent on the basis of the valid cases .

version - GESIS ARCHIVE VERSION

VERSION AND RELEASE DATE OF THE ARCHIVE DATA SET

This variable identifies the GESIS archive version number of this data set and the corresponding release date, recorded as an alphanumeric string. The version number is composed of a sequence of three numbers. The major number is incremented when there are changes in the composition of the data set (e.g. additional variables or cases), the minor or second number is incremented when significant errors have been fixed (e.g. coding errors, misleading value labels), and the third or revision number is incremented when minor bugs are fixed (e.g. spelling errors in variable or value labels).

On occasion of the implementation of this versioning scheme (2010-04-13), the default version number 1.0.0 has been created automatically for this Eurobarometer.

Version 1.0.1 adds the crosstabulation variable ISOCNTRY and the VERSION variable to the otherwise unchanged data set. Former version or edition identification variables are maintained unchanged as a reference to former releases.

isocntry - NATION - ALL SAMPLES ISO 3166 (CROSSTABULATION VARIABLE)

NATION - ALL SAMPLES ISO 3166 (CROSSTABULATION VARIABLE)

All surveyed countries and regions, i.e. including separate samples for East- / West-Germany, Great Britain / Northern Ireland, and the Turkish Cypriot Community (TCC), are coded in accordance with the ISO 3166-1-alpha-2 country code, if available. ISO 3166-2 is applied for the United Kingdom subdivisions. ISO standard codes are not available for the "historical" East / West subdivision of Germany (DE-E / DE-W) and for the Turkish Cypriot Community in northern Cyprus (CY-TCC), the internationally not recognized "Turkish Republic of Northern Cyprus".

UNEMPLOYMENT SECTION / SECTION JOBSEEKERS - IF LOOKING FOR A JOB: CODE 1 IN Q.56A - ASK Q.58 TO Q.76

Some people do not really mind about being out of work. Others feel it is just about the worst thing that ever happened to them.
Would you look at this card and give me the number that shows your own feelings about being out of work? If you do not really mind about being out of work, you give a score of 1. If you feel it is just about the worst thing that ever happened to you, you give a score of 10. The scores between 1 and 10 allow you to say how close to either side you are.

Note:

Only in the case of West Germany "Region II" corresponds to the variable labeled "Region" in earlier Eurobarometers up to 31.

If indicated, "Region II" units are consistent with the EUROSTAT nomenclature for regional statistics (NUTS).

Starting with Eurobarometer 34 and up to survey 61, NUTS 1 level data (REGION II) for the NETHERLANDS are not (re-)coded in accordance with the official EUROSTAT nomenclature of territorial unit statistics. The NUTS 2 level province ZEELAND should be coded as belonging to NUTS 1 region (landsdel) WEST instead of SOUTH Netherlands. Archive releases have been corrected from EB 51 onwards.

v552 - C1 OPINION LEADERSHIP INDEX

C.1 OPINION LEADERSHIP INDEX (Cognitive Mobilization Index)

- 0 (DK/NA)
1 ++ high cognitive mobilization
4 -- low cognitive mobilization

Derivation:

This index is based on the answers to the following two questions:

1) Q.3 (V53) "When you hold a strong opinion, do you ever find yourself persuading your friends, relatives or fellow workers to share your views? Does this happen ...?"

2) Q.2 (V52) "When you get together with friends, would you say you discuss political matters frequently, occasionally or never?"

Respondents giving affirmative answers to both questions are labeled ++.

Respondents giving negative answers to both questions are labeled --.

Middle categories (+ and -) are constituted correspondingly.

CODE 1: Coded 1 or 2 for V53 and 1 for V52

CODE 2: coded 3, 4, 5 or 0 for V53 and 1 for V52; or coded 1 or 2 for V53 and 2 for V52

CODE 3: coded 3, 4, 5 or 0 for V53 and 2 for V52; or coded 1 or 2 for V53 and 3, 4 or 0 for V52

CODE 4: Coded 3, 4, 5 or 0 for V53 and 3 for V52; or coded 3 or 4 for V53 and 3, 4 or 0 for V52

CODE 0: coded 5 or 0 for V53 and 4 or 0 for V52

This variable forms an indicator of an individual's potential to take an active role in the political process. For a complete discussion of this variable and its correlates see Ronald Inglehart, THE SILENT REVOLUTION: CHANGING VALUES AND POLITICAL STYLES AMONG WESTERN PUBLICS (Princeton University Press, 1977).

v553 - C4 SOCIO PROFESSIONAL STATUS

C.4 SOCIO PROFESSIONAL STATUS

- 0 Other answers (never any paid work, NA)
- 1 Farmer & fisher
- 2 Professionals
- 3 Owner of a shop, craftsmen, other self employed position
- 4 Business proprietors, owner of a company
- 5 Employed professional
- 6 General management
- 7 Middle management
- 8 Employed position, working mainly at a desk
- 9 Employed position , not at a desk but traveling
- 10 Employed position, not at a desk but in a service job
- 11 Supervisors
- 12 Skilled manual workers
- 13 Other (unskilled) manual worker

Derivation:

Roughly half of the representative sample of the European Union public was without paid work. Basing cross-analyses on "occupation" (D.15A) would exclude half of the respondents from analysis. An alternative is to base analyses on a (non-Marxist) concept of "objective social class" using the occupation of the "person who contributes most to the household income" as reference.

In order to classify as many respondents as possible with respect to their socio-professional setting, a new classification was created called "socio-professional status" of the main income earner (MIE). The following standard was used if the respondent is the MIE: For those in paid work it is based on the respondents' own present occupation (D.15A). For those not in paid work, "former occupation" (D.15B) was used, if applicable. If the respondent is not the MIE, the occupation of the "person who contributes most to the household income" (D.21A) was used and if the head of household was not performing paid works at the time of the interview, his or her "former occupation" (D.21B) was used, if applicable.

SOCIO PROFESSIONAL STATUS is, consequently, a classification "as close to the respondent himself/herself as possible" but draws upon additional background information, to the extent necessary and available, in order to avoid a single measure of respondent socio-professional setting and to include the maximum number of respondents in the respective analyses.

For more details see standard report EUROBAROMETER 44, April 1996, Brussels, C.11 f.

Derivation:

This index is based upon the vote intention question D.4: "If there were a "General Election" tomorrow (SAY IF CONTACT UNDER 18 YEARS: and you had a vote), which party would you vote for?" Answers are grouped according to the affiliation of the representatives of the respective party to a group in the European Parliament.

If a party was not represented in the European Parliament at the time the survey was carried out but had been represented before, its supporters are included in the European Parliament group that their party had previously been affiliated with. Supporters of parties represented in the European Parliament whose members (of the European Parliament) are not affiliated with any group are labeled "NI" Supporters of parties not represented in the European Parliament are labeled "Not represented". Labels are presented in the order in which they occur in the "List of Members" of the European Parliament of 1994.
