Introduction and preliminary remarks

The GESIS Variable Report Series on the International Social Survey Programme Studies offers a comprehensive description of data on study and variable level. For each annual module individual Variable Reports are provided for final data set versions.

The reports are structured into six chapters:

Chapter one gives a brief overview of the worldwide ISSP project as a whole.

Chapter two provides the description of the respective ISSP study including bibliographic information, abstract and methodological specifications.

Chapter three contains information on study related survey materials which are absolutely essential to understand the data properly, followed by general information about the structure of ISSP data sets, documentation standards and variable coding frames in chapter four.

Chapter five provides a short explanation of the variable documentation itself.

Chapter six contains the core variable documentation: the documentation of each variable including complete question texts with all answer categories of the Basic Questionnaire, partially enriched with archival remarks. In addition, this Variable Report presents cross tabulations over countries for all substantial and most of the demographic variables. Archive, protocol and country specific variables are usually shown by descriptive statistics or frequency distributions. All cross tabulations, descriptive statistics and frequency distributions are based on unweighted data.

The appendix usually contains two sorts of survey materials: the Study Descriptions and, if available, the Characteristics of National Population, basic statistics for all the participating countries of the corresponding module. The data for the annual ISSP modules are collected by independent institutions in each country. The country data is integrated into one international data file, which is documented, distributed and long-term archived by the ISSP Archive, institutionally, the GESIS Data Archive for the Social Sciences (Leibniz Institute for the Social Sciences) in Cologne, Germany (<http://www.gesis.org>). In every second year from 1997 on, data processing, integration and harmonization have predominantly been prepared by our partners at JDS/ ASEP in Spain (<http://www.jdsurvey.com>) which is also true for this ISSP 2015 data set on Work Orientations IV.

Data access

Data for statistical analysis along with information about this data such as version history and errata are made available by the Data Catalogue (<https://dbk.gesis.org/dbksearch/>).

The Data Online Platform ZACAT of GESIS (<http://zacat.gesis.org>) provides data documentations and additionally enables users to analyse data online.

Access to the Data Catalogue and ZACAT is free of charge, download of data sets requires registration.

Anonymised data

According to data regulations in participating countries, only anonymised data are made available. Each national team is responsible for carefully checking the data in this respect before the deposit.

Usage requirements

To provide funding agencies with essential information about the use of archival resources and to facilitate the exchange of information about related research activities, all users of ISSP data are requested to send bibliographic citations for each completed manuscript or thesis abstracts to isspservice@gesis.org or if possible, please directly send a copy of the publication to GESIS (GESIS-Leibniz-Institute for the Social Sciences, Dept. Data Archive - ISSP, Unter Sachsenhausen 6-8, D-50667 Cologne, Germany). Please also observe the general notes on the usage regulations of GESIS Data Archive.

Disclaimer

Neither the original collector of the data, nor GESIS or JDS/ ASEP bears any responsibility for the use of ISSP data or any data analyses.

1 ISSP Series Description

1.1 Series name

The International Social Survey Programme (ISSP)

1.2 Series information

The ISSP is a cross-national collaboration program, which has been continuously conducting annual surveys on diverse social science topics since 1985. The topics for each ISSP survey are proposed by delegates from ISSP member countries. Then, a Basic Questionnaire is composed and improved over several years by a committee, elected by the General Assembly before it is pretested in various countries. Starting in 1984 with four founding nations - Australia, Germany, Great Britain and the United States, the ISSP meanwhile has grown up to almost 50 member countries covering various cultures around the globe.

ISSP Modules 1985 – 2020:

- Citizenship: 2004/ 2014
- Environment: 1993/ 2000/ 2010/ 2020
- Family and Changing Gender Roles: 1988/ 1994/ 2002/ 2012
- Health and Health Care: 2011
- Leisure Time and Sports: 2007
- National Identity: 1995/ 2003/ 2013
- Religion: 1991/ 1998/ 2008/ 2018
- Role of Government: 1985/ 1990/ 1996/ 2006/ 2016
- Social Inequality: 1987/ 1992/ 1999/ 2009/ 2019
- Social Networks: 1986/ 2001/ 2017
- Work Orientations: 1989/ 1997/ 2005/ 2015

All ISSP members agree

1. to jointly develop modules addressing important areas of social science,
2. to field the modules either as an individual survey or as supplements to the regular national surveys and
3. to make the data available to the social science community as quickly as possible.

As the surveys are designed for replication they offer both cross-national and cross-time comparison, creating the base for a vast range of substantive and methodological research. Since there is no external fund agency, ISSP members fund their own surveys. Beyond that, ISSP committee members fund ISSP central coordination, networking, development of source questionnaires, or methodological work.

For more information on the ISSP in general, its working principles, contact addresses of ISSP members and principal investigators, please visit the ISSP web site (<http://www.issp.org>).

3 Corresponding survey material

When dealing with international comparative data, data sets and documentation must be seen as two sides of the same coin. Even though ISSP members make huge efforts to produce comparable data in each country, there still remains a remarkable amount of country specific peculiarities in the contributions to the final, international data set. These country specific peculiarities either have to be harmonized or to be documented, as they provide vital information for secondary analysts. Therefore, a set of procedures has been developed to take care for orderly technical preparation of national data sets and to allow for the systematic collection of required context information.

All corresponding survey materials are provided in English, only the national questionnaires are available in the national language(s) of each country.

3.1 Basic Questionnaire

The ISSP General Assembly concludes the design phase of an ISSP module after intensive discussions on the single items of the Basic Questionnaire roughly a year before the module is fielded. Two third of the module questions have to be replications from previous ISSP modules of the same subject. According to this, one third of the questions in each module are new. Subsequent to the mandatory module questions, some pre-selected optional questions can be added. Finally, ISSP member countries translate the British English Basic Questionnaire to their local language as equivalent as possible.

Drafting group for the Basic Questionnaire on the Work Orientations Module 2015:

- Czech Republic
- Estonia
- Germany: Michael Braun, Regina Jutz, Evi Scholz (Convenor)
- Israel
- South Korea
- Venezuela
- and two experts from Switzerland

3.2 Background Variables Standards and Documentation

Apart from the Basic Questionnaire, covering the substantial module variables, countries also have to collect responses on a defined set of ISSP Standard Background Variables, which predominantly contains demographic information. Since the ISSP often runs with larger national surveys, the background variables are mainly taken from these surveys. Thus, demographic issues cannot be asked in a fixed form over all members of the ISSP. They have to meet the demands of the national studies first. As a result, the demographic variables for the ISSP need to be post-harmonized according to a developed set of common standards.

Over the past 30 years, there have been different Background Variable Standards:

The first set of background variables was established in 1985 with the first ISSP survey. Here countries agreed on collecting the same demographic information. This list of variables underwent a revision in 2001, now providing a coding frame for each background variable. It was valid until 2009.

In 2010 a new revision process of the ISSP Background Variables, planned for a three years period, started.

Beginning with the ISSP module 2010, this first revised version of the ISSP Background Variable Standard concentrating mainly on variables containing work, occupational and partnership status information came into effect. The second round of revisions, coming into effect in 2011, had its focus on the education variables, while the last change is going to be made on the variable measuring ethnicity, effective with the module 2013. The new standard is documented in some guidelines (different documents indicating the intermediate steps of revision), providing detailed information and instructions on the variables measurement goals, coding frames, filters and possible question texts. Additionally, the question texts are summarized in a Master Questionnaire on Background Variables.

Since 2004 countries document the post-harmonisation processes for each variable in a special documentation template provided by the Archive. This template, always adjusted to the current standard, offers detailed country specific information on administration, derivation, and coding of the ISSP Background Variables. All relevant background variable documents are available from the ISSP webpages at GESIS.

3.3 National Study Description

For each country, the original National Study Description is available in the appendix of this Variable Report. The National Study Descriptions are provided by the countries and include information on sample sizes, field dates, modes of data collection, sampling procedures, response rates and weighting processes.

3.4 Characteristics of National Population

The appendix of this Variable Report also includes Characteristics of National Populations for all participating countries. These documents provide statistical data on the composition of national populations in terms of gender, age, education and employment rates and, therefore, allow assessing how representative national samples are.

4 Data set structure and standards

ISSP data sets are processed and documented by the Data Archive of GESIS and by ASEP/ JDS every second year in accordance with agreed standards, which may differ in some details. Despite several changes in the background variables, a certain standard has been established in the course of time.

In order to uniquely identify a data set, to each data set version a GESIS Study No., a Version No., and a Digital Object Identifier (doi) is assigned. The doi is linked to the Study Description in the Data Catalogue (<https://dbk.gesis.org/dbksearch/index.asp>). Metadata filled in the Study Description of ISSP 2015 data and associated with a doi are provided to the registration agency for social science data (da|ra).

The doi: 10.4232/1.12848 is assigned to the ISSP 2015 (v.2.1.0).

4.1 Data set structure

Usually, the ISSP data sets are structured as follows:

1. Archive and Identification Variables

Administrative variables are used for identifying data sets, respondents and countries (GESIS Data Archive Study Number, GESIS Archive Version, Digital Object Identifier, Country Codes, ID Number of Respondent). The GESIS Archive Version variable includes the version and release date of the data set, composed as a string variable with three numbers:

- The major number is incremented when there are changes in the composition of the data set (e.g. additional variables or cases).
- The minor or second number is incremented when significant errors have been fixed (e.g. coding errors, misleading value labels).
- The third or revision number is incremented when minor bugs are fixed (e.g. spelling errors in variable or value labels).

Country codes identify each case as belonging to one country. The country code variable, which was used according to a scheme leaning on international automobile identification codes in the beginning of the ISSP, was replaced by two country code variables based on the ISO Code 3166. One identifies countries as a whole, the other one possible subsamples, such as East and West Germany. The cross tabulations shown in this Variable Report are based on a third, alphanumerical country code variable.

2. Substantial Variables

The substantial variables contain the mandatory module questions, often supplemented by optional questions.

Variable labels provide keywords based on the question text; these keywords are applied consistently if questions or question items are repeated over time. All substantial variables include the original question number of the Basic Questionnaire in the variable labels.

Generally, all variable names consist of the standard prefix "V" and the consecutive variable number.

ISSP 2015 is the first module in which numbering starts with the first substantial variable. Before that time, numbering started with the archive variables).

3. ISSP Background Variables

In the earlier ISSP modules, all variables are numbered consecutively, beginning with the archive variables and followed by substantial and background variables. The last variable of each data set, usually is the variable on weighting. Later on, the background variables start with V200 et seq.. Nowadays, these variable numbers are expressed by mnemonics with max. 8 characters (SEX, AGE, ...).

4. Country Specific Variables

Variables, which cannot be harmonized for various reasons, are usually presented as country specific variables. As a rule, variable names of country specific variables have country abbreviations as prefixes. In some of the older ISSP studies, the principle of country specific variables is not used. Instead all country specific information is integrated into one variable.

5. Protocol Variables

There are five protocol variables in the latest ISSP modules. The variable 'MODE' indicates the mode of data collection, while 'SUBSCASE' indicates whether a respondent in the sample is an original case or a replacement for an originally selected respondent who was not available. The variables 'DATEYR', 'DATEMO' and 'DATEDY' provide information on the dates and periods of fielding.

ISSP surveys prior to 2010 do not include the three DATE variables for indicating the fielding date and ISSP surveys before 2007 do not contain the SUBSCASE variable.

6. Weight

There is no weight available for the international comparison on the ISSP across countries. Please note that also country subsamples can be over- respectively underrepresented without any weighting factor correcting for the imbalance. This fact has to be taken into account if these countries in question are analyzed as one unit.

4.2 Data preparation

On the basis of the Basic Questionnaire covering the substantial variables and the standard core set of background variables the Archive provides a Standard Setup for each individual ISSP module, which defines the variable and value labels for the integrated data file. All country data sets should be processed and prepared to match the structure of the Standard Setup before the material is deposited to the GESIS Data Archive for integration and archiving.

After conducting the national surveys, all collaborators are supposed to deposit their data at the GESIS Data Archive, where all the deposited data sets are prepared, integrated and merged into one single international data set, which is finally published.

During the data preparation process all national data sets are successively controlled for completeness, missing data and duplicate records, for wild codes and for formal consistency of response patterns and question routing. Moreover, national derivation processes from source to target codes in the background variables are controlled. Missing values, especially due to filter instructions are checked and recoded where necessary. Errors, which are discovered during these procedures, are corrected or documented in cooperation with primary investigators.

However, not all inconsistencies are errors. Some inconsistencies might be owed to irrational response behavior or may be a consequence of different modes of data-collection in or across the participating countries during the fieldwork phase. Such inconsistencies are not eliminated during the data preparation process.

Complete machine-readable DDI-XML (see chapter 4.5) compliant documentation is created for all ISSP data sets by GESIS.

4.3 Coding frames

By general rule, the variables of the module questions adopt the coding frame as specified in the Basic Questionnaire, except for multiple response questions.

GESIS adds 'Not applicable' (NAP) codes for questions that have filters. NAP indicates that only a subsample and not all of the respondents were asked. Also in the case of country specific variables, all the other countries are coded NAP.

GESIS adds 'Not available' (NAV) for variables which in single countries may not have been conducted for whatever reason.

4.3.1 Country specific answer categories

ISSP data include some questions (variables) which have country specific answer categories such as DEGREE, RESPONDENT'S INCOME, FAMILY INCOME, PARTY AFFILIATION - later PARTY VOTED LAST ELECTION, REGION and SIZE OF COMMUNITY (the latter until ISSP 2009).

For country specific income variables with answer categories, the data is recoded to midpoints of the categories.

Recently additionally provided as country specific variables: RELIGION (since ISSP 2010), ETHNIC GROUP (since ISSP 2013)

For occupation, official international occupation codes are used. While in the first years of the ISSP many countries used country specific occupation codes, ISCO 1988 has been established as a standard over the years. Starting with ISSP 2014, ISCO 2008 is used.

4.3.2 Missing values

In general, the missing values are standardised across ISSP modules. For all variables a set of missing values is defined:

- 0: Not applicable (NAP), Not available (NAV)
- 7 (97, 997, 9997, ...): Refused
- 8 (98, 998, 9998, ...): Don't know
- 9 (99, 999, 9999, ...): No answer

4.4 Weighting

Please note, that there is no total weight usable for international comparison. While all ISSP data sets contain a weighting variable, the weights in this variable do not incorporate a common weighting scheme that can be applied to all countries of the same ISSP module.

In the Study Description and/ or in the Background Variables Documentation of each country you will find more detailed information on the kind of weights that are used. You can see, whether

- a design weight
- weights to adjust for non-response bias or
- a combination of these both weights above or
- different weighting procedures

are applied. However, some countries dispense with weighting factors. If no weight is provided, the variable "Weight" is coded to 1.0. Otherwise the weighting factor is unequal 1.0 (but greater than 0).

It may be advisable to weight data to increase representativeness in certain cases. For ISSP data we strongly recommend consulting the National Study Descriptions for information on the certain weighting factor composition and maybe even the Characteristics of National Population for more context information. An initial overview of the national weighting procedures is provided in this Variable Report in chapter 6.

4.5 International documentation standard

The variable documentation is set up in accordance with the international metadata specifications for the social sciences, established by the Data Documentation Initiative <DDI>. The Variable Reports are based on the XML representation of DDI version 2. The documentation combines the exact wording and sequence of question components (question text, interviewer instruction, response categories, etc.) from the Basic Questionnaire with the variable description (variable name, values, and labels) of the data set. General remarks and comments referring to a certain variable are defined as variable notes. Notes mostly include additional information on country specific deviations from the ISSP standard, information about data problems or other specific characteristics.

5 Explanation of the variable documentation

The variable documentation part of this Variable Report describes each variable in the data file including all relevant information for this variable such as the single question components or further notes and statistical distributions. The variable documentation is set up by means of the GESIS Dataset Documentation Manager (DSDM) and in accordance with international metadata standards (DDI-Codebook/XML).

In general, the following abbreviations are used to indicate countries or (sub-national) areas. As far as applicable, the ISO 3166-1 alpha-2 country codes have been applied and coded accordingly in the alphanumeric sample identification variable 'C_ALPHAN'.

AT	Austria	IS	Iceland
AU	Australia	JP	Japan

The example explained below shows the information that for a typical substantial variable appears in the variable documentation part of a Variable Report. Results are usually broken down by country or presented as frequency counts in the case of country specific variables. In the case of variables with long lists of coded "real" values (e.g. ISCO08/ SPISCO08) results are not shown or, if appropriate, reflected by descriptive indicators such as mean or median (e.g. AGE, country specific variable RINC and INC). The descriptive parameters mean and/ or median are sometimes also presented despite the fact that an open answer scale was used (e.g. WRKHRS code 96 '96 hours or more') to give an idea of the distribution of this variable across countries.

The complete question and answer texts are taken from the final Basic Questionnaire as provided. All deviations are documented in this Variable Report.

As there is neither an international weighting factor nor a national weighting factor which would be comparable for all participating countries, all frequencies and tables are calculated from unweighted data.

Header with DIGITAL OBJECT IDENTIFIER (DOI) linked to the Study Description in the GESIS Data Catalogue.

VARIABLE NAME (serial number assigned by the archive) and VARIABLE LABEL as defined in the data set.

QUESTION NUMBER and full QUESTION TEXT from the Basic Questionnaire, including interviewer instructions, if applicable. The numbers or letters that may appear together with the original question number, reflect the item order or indicate if a question was asked only in a single country (country abbreviation).

CODE VALUES occurring in the data for this variable and complete ANSWER TEXT from the Basic Questionnaire. Abbreviations commonly used in the code definitions are DK (don't know), NA (no answer), NAP (not applicable) and NAV (not available).

DERIVATION information refers to the construction principle of derived variables.
NOTE delineates additional explanatory text or archive remarks on data processing and other issues relevant for the understanding or application of the variable.

CROSS-TABULATION: The absolute frequencies base on unweighted data. The relative frequencies (row percent) refer to the valid cases (n valid sum), i.e. the total number of cases (n sum) reduced by the number of cases defined as missing data (M).

FREQUENCY COUNTS: For country specific variables relative frequencies are calculated in- and excluding missing data (M), i.e. percent on the basis of all cases (sum) and valid percent on basis of the valid cases.

DESCRIPTIVE PARAMETERS: For some interval-scaled variables descriptive parameters such as minimum, maximum, and (if appropriate) median and mean are given on the basis of the valid cases.

VERSION AND RELEASE DATE OF THE ARCHIVE DATA SET

This variable identifies the GESIS archive version number of this data set and the corresponding release date, recorded as a string.

The version number is composed of a sequence of three numbers. The major number is incremented when there are changes in the composition of the data set (e.g. additional variables or cases), the minor or second number is incremented when significant errors have been fixed (e.g. coding errors, misleading value labels), and the third or revision number is incremented when minor bugs are fixed (e.g. spelling errors in variable or value labels).

doi - Digital Object Identifier*Digital Object Identifier (DOI)

This variable holds the Digital Object Identifier (DOI) for the data set at hand as registered via the DAJRA registration agency for economic and social science data. Each data set version (see the variable 'version') has a unique persistent DOI.

For direct access to the complete archive dissemination package for this study, including new data set versions, the DOI needs to be appended to the resolver service URL:

<http://dx.doi.org/10.4232/1.12848>

In terms of good scientific practice, the DOI is an important element for the correct citation of a data set.

Country/ Sample (see the variable 'country' for codes for whole nation states).

To indicate the subsamples within the ISSP countries a code on the basis of ISO 3166 was constructed. For all countries without subsamples the three digit ISO 3166 Code (as in the variable 'country') was used.

For those with subsamples a five digit numeric code is used. The first three-digits are based on the original ISO code and indicate the country. The following two-digit numeric appendices (01, 02, 03) indicate the subsamples.

Note:

/ DE: Please note that the original data allowed for multiple answers. Respondents with multiple educational degrees are coded according to their 'highest' educational entry in the German ISSP degree variable. For example, respondents with 'Abitur' and additional vocational training in the dual system (but no further academic education) are coded 8 'Vocational training, degree from German dual system'. Thus, the code 7 'Higher secondary (Abitur)' is only given to respondents who did not receive either any further academic or vocational training. Question on vocational training only asked if respondent not still at school.

DEGREE - Highest completed education level: Categories for international comparison

DEGREE: Comparative - Highest completed degree of education: Categories for international comparison

The aim of this variable is to measure the highest completed education level/ degree of the respondent in order to facilitate international comparison.

Procedure: The degree of education is asked country-specific (see variables AT_DEGR-ZA_DEGR). Then, the harmonized ISSP categories for the variable DEGREE are to be computed from the country-specific degree variables.

Correspondence lists between country specific categories and categories of the ISSP DEGREE variable must be reported in detail in the BV documentation template for each country.

/ DE: Question on vocational training only asked if respondent not still at school. Please note that the original data allows for multiple answers. Respondents with multiple educational degrees are coded according to their 'highest' educational entry in the ISSP degree variable.

/ LV: Primary education until 1961: 7 classes, from 1962-1989: 8 classes, from 1990: 9 classes.

/ NZ: The DEGREE variable was generated from the first question mentioned above. For respondents of no formal qualification, the second question was used to filter respondents of no formal qualification into 1. No formal education, 2. Primary and 3. Lower secondary school.

/ PL: In 1999 there was a change of system education in Poland. Elementary school, which was 8 yrs before 1999 was replaced by compulsory 6 yrs primary school and compulsory 3 yrs gymnasium. Code 1 in DEGREE for Poland means: primary (8yrs) for people born before 1986 and primary (6 yrs) for people born after 1985. Code 2 means gymnasium (3 yrs) and is relevant only for people born after 1985.

/ SI: Slovenia had some changes in the school system in the last 10 years. Primary school used to be 8 years and is now changed to 9 years. Slovenia is also taking Bologna programs at universities.

- 2 Currently not in paid work, paid work in the past (for at least one year)
- 3 Never had paid work (for at least one year)

Note:

/ CH: The wording of the question and the answer categories have slightly changed due to the fact that the question is already asked in the module ISSP Work orientation at the beginning of the questionnaire.

/ CZ: It is common in the Czech context to take advantage of a relatively long maternity (28 weeks) and parental (until child turns 3) leave, therefore persons on maternity/ parental leave were not treated as economically active unless they are simultaneously working for pay for at least one hour per week.

/ IS: There are no cases for category 3 'Never had paid work' in WORK. This category was, however, asked.

/ NZ: Derived from questions Q10/ Q32.

/ SE: For this module, the WORK variable was used in conjunction with v20. When cross tabulating these two variables, there was a small inconsistency, some respondents did not give the same answer on both questions. Therefore a filter was created based on information given by both variables. All inconsistent answers were coded as 9, hence the filter contains a higher distribution of response=9 than is usually the case.

/ ES: The Spanish questionnaire for ISSP Work Orientations 2015 includes an instruction for interviewers to refer questions (WRKHRS, EMPREL, NEMPLOY, WRKSUP, NSUP, TYPORG1/2, and ISCO08) to the main wage earner in the household only if the respondent has never worked. These data are not included here.

/ IS: There are no cases for category 3 'Never had paid work' in WORK. This category was, however, asked. Thus, for all variables that follow WORK and in which WORK code 3 serves as a filter argument, there are no cases in the filter category for Iceland.

/ US: In the US questionnaire, WRKSUP is asked simultaneously of respondents and spouses. If the respondent is not currently working and the spouse is, spouses' answers are kept. This amounts to a handful of cases in the initial US survey, which, however, are not included here.

However, self-employed respondents (EMPREL=2 or 3) are retrospectively coded into code 1 'For-profit' in TYPORG 1 and into code 2 'Private' in TYPORG2.

Note:

/ AT: ISCO 2008 codes, 3-digits multiplied by 10.

/ DE: Constructed from respondent's current occupation. If respondent currently not employed or part time employed but employed in the past, the last occupation taken.

/ ES: The Spanish questionnaire has a double coding of occupation: ISCO 08-ILO and the Spanish National Classification of Occupations (CNO-11), which is an official adaptation of ISCO 2008.

/ ES: The Spanish questionnaire for ISSP Work Orientations 2015 includes an instruction for interviewers to refer questions (WRKHRS, EMPREL, NEMPLOY, WRKSUP, NSUP, TYPORG1/2, and ISCO08) to the main wage earner in the household only if the respondent has never worked. These data are not included here.

/ FR: Constructed from the French classification of the occupations and the social categories (PCS 2003).

/ GB-GBN: Where the frequency of any 4 digit ISCO code in the ISSP dataset is less than 5, the code is reduced to 2 digits.

/ IS: There are no cases for category 3 'Never had paid work' in WORK. This category was, however, asked. Thus, for all variables that follow WORK and in which WORK code 3 serves as a filter argument, there are no cases in the filter category for Iceland.

/ NO: Constructed from the Norwegian standard classification of occupations 2008 (STYRK-08), based on the International Standard Classification of Occupations 2008 - ISCO-08.

/ SR: Open question, verbatim answers were coded into ISCO-88, then transferred into ISCO-08.

/ US: US Census 2010 codes recoded to ISCO08.

/ ZA: In coding occupation, the South African version of ISCO (SASCO) was used and then transcribed to ISCO 08.

in New Zealand (NZ):

9 No answer including no spouse/ partner

Note:

/ AT: No information is available on the past, thus code 2 and 3 cannot be properly separated. A specific value label is needed, in the SPSS labels code 3 reads 'Not in paid work'.

/ GB-GBN: Multicoded, then priority coded to single variable.

/ NZ: Respondents with spouses/ partners who are 'Employed full-time (30+ hours weekly)', 'Employed part-time (15-30 hours weekly)', 'Employed (< 15 hours weekly)' or 'Helping a family member' were coded as SPWORK=1 (In paid work). Respondents who were not coded SPWORK=1, but, for example, are retired or selected an employer type were coded with SPWORK=3 (Not in paid work). All those remaining are coded with 'No Answer'. Unfortunately, this recoding will not fully capture nor accurately represent Code 2 'Currently not in paid work, paid work in the past' or Code 3 'Never had paid work'.

/ NZ: Due to the fact that PARTLIV was not asked, married and partnered respondents cannot be properly filtered from respondents without spouse/ partner. As a consequence, respondents without spouse/ partner are included in code 9 'No answer'.

/ SR: The filter argument code 3,7 in PARTLIV is not applicable for Suriname. There is a note in the first question in the section on the occupation of respondents' spouses that clarifies: 'The following questions are about the work of your partner. Note: Even if your spouse is deceased, you must complete these questions. If you've never had a partner, you can go straight on to section I.'

/ US: In the US questionnaire, WRKSUP is asked simultaneously of respondents and spouses. If the respondent is not currently working and the spouse is, spouses' answers are kept. This amounts to a handful of cases in the initial US survey, which, however, are not included here due to scarcity.

Note:

/ CH: The answers given in the category 'other' are recoded in the list, or remain in the category 'other'. In Switzerland, citizens vote for candidates by giving the vote to the party in choosing a list prepared by the parties, but they can also vote only for candidates. In this case, they vote for candidates of several lists without giving any vote to the party. That is what is called 'mixed vote'.

Note:

/ ZA: Given the apartheid history in South Africa, the race categorization of white, black (African), Indian and coloured is very commonly understood in South Africa. This is the most common variable used to categorise various the races. Among the African people there are various tribes, and the most common way – although this is seldom used - to ethnize the African group would be to use the African language that they speak, i.e. Sesotho, Setswana, Sepedi, Siswati, IsiNdebele, IsiXhosa, IsiZulu, Xitsonga, Tshivenda.

In terms of the White groups (Europeans) it is fairly uncommon to ask origin country and the only further distinction is again based on language, that is the Afrikaans speakers and the English speakers. Coloured people and the Indian population are generally treated as a homogenous group with no further distinction.

/ CH: Monthly net income in Swiss Francs (CHF); the most recent available household income range has been divided in deciles and rounded to create the 10 categories. The categories are presented on the showcard for the monthly and annual income. Midpoints of the income categories are coded.

/ CH: The categories are a merge of the personal and household income categories. In this way, single person households don't have to answer to distinct questions. For the single households, the personal and household income is combined.

Note:

Code 2, 'Civil Partnership', also referred to by a variety of other names, is a legally recognized arrangement similar to marriage. This arrangement varies from one country to another and can apply for heterosexual partners as well as for same-sex partners. Sometimes the legality of a national civil partnership status is difficult to determine. However, any details and additional information on the part of the ISSP member countries are provided below.

/ AU: Civil partnerships are not relevant in the Australian context.

/ CL: There is no civil partnership in Chile. Up to 2004 there was no law regulating divorce in Chile. The legal way to end up a marriage was through a process of annulment (code 3 in the question).

/ GE: Georgian version of MARITAL does not have the option 'civil partnership'.

/ HR: Including civil partnership (see code 2) legally defined as living in common household in minimum period of 3 years and/ or joint parenthood.

/ IN: 'Cohabiting, living together' as a not legal form is recoded to category 6 'never married'.

/ IS: Code 2 means 'In registered cohabitation'.

/ LT: There is no legal civil partnership in Lithuania (code 2 'civil partnership' not used).

/ LV: Code 2 'civil partnership' not used.

/ MX: Code 2 'Civil partnership' reads 'Sociedad de convivencia' (marriage between people of the same sex).

/ NO: Code 2 includes 'Civil partnership (same sex)'.

/ NZ: Code 2 'Civil partnership' reads 'De facto relationship' (man-woman or man-man/ woman-woman who live together as a couple and are not married to or in a civil union with one another; length of relationship at least three years).

/ SI: Code 2 'Civil partnership' = Non-marital union (also registered homosexual partnership).

/ SK: Code 2 'Civil partnership' includes registered partnerships between man and woman, not homosexual couples.

/ SR: Code 2 'Civil partnership' includes 'Concubinaat' (man-woman) and a few cases for 'Geregistreerd partnerschap' (man-woman or man-man/ woman-woman).

/ US: MARITAL now encompasses both opposite-sex and same-sex marriages. The US General Social Survey uses POSSLQ and POSSLQY (see PARTLIV) to track long-term cohabitation, but does not ask about civil partnerships separate from marriage.

/ ZA: Civil partnerships can be formed by opposite-sex couples and by same-sex couples.

CASEID - ID Number of Respondent

CASEID - Respondent Identification Number

This variable holds a unique identification number to each respondent including the ISSP module year (first 4 digits: 2015), the ISO 3166 country code (next 5 digits: for countries without subsamples starting with 00 plus the three digits for the country code, for countries with subsamples starting directly with the three digits country code supplemented by an appendix two digits long) and the original identification number of the respondents (the last 7 digits), making an identification number of 16 numbers in total.

WEIGHT - Weighting factor

Weighting factor

No total weight usable for international comparison.

NATIONAL weighting procedures/ variables used for calculation of NATIONAL weights:

AT: Age, Sex, Education are used to adjust for non-response bias.

AU: A post-stratification or non-response weight was calculated with the aim of rebalancing the Australian sample so the weighted sample frequencies are equal to the expected frequencies in population in a three-way tabulation by age group (5 groups), sex, and highest level of education (5 levels). The cross tabulation from the Australian population was done using the 2011 Census Table Builder. In the sample not all individuals had complete information on age, sex and year of schooling. However imputations of weight were used to deal so that all individuals were assigned a weight even if they had missing data.

BE: In order to deliver one integrated harmonized data file for Belgium post stratification weights were calculated based upon age (three age groups: 18-39; 40-59; 60+), sex, and geographical classification (NUTS1 Flemish Region, Walloon Region, Brussels Capital Region). These characteristics are known for all sampled units and the population distributions are published by the Belgian Institute for National Statistics (ADS). The age-sex distribution in each region is reproduced by the weights as well as the distribution over the regions. The result of this weighting procedure in combination with the sampling design is that the weights for respondents of the Brussels Capital Region are much smaller than the weights for the respondents of the Flemish and Walloon regions. The use of adequate software is always necessary when analyzing data with weights, but with these data it is vitally important when comparing the regions or analyzing only one region separately.

CH: No weighting.

CL: A weighting procedure is applied in order to correct for distortions in the representativeness of the sample as regards three variables of interest: Gender, Age, (grouped in five categories: 18-24 years, 25-34, 35-44, 45-54, 55 or older) and Urbanity (classification of place of residence as urban or rural). This makes it possible to obtain a sample with characteristics similar to those of the population. The weights are constructed by calculating the quotient between the expected distribution and that observed in the cross between Urbanity, Gender and Age. The expected distribution is obtained from the 2002 census data provided by the National Institute of Statistics. The result of the weighting slightly corrects for problems of under- and over-representation among certain specific groups of the population.

CN: Design weight to adjust for unequal selection probabilities.

CZ: Data was designed using Deming-Stephan algorithm (iterative proportional fitting) with continuous trimming of weights. The resulting range of weights is 0.5-2.0. Weights were designed using most recent data from the Czech Statistical Office. Weighting factors were age, gender, region, size of community, education and economic activity.

DE: Two separate German samples: the sample for eastern Germany deliberately over-samples the five eastern federal states. If all of Germany is taken as the unit of analysis (rather than the eastern and western states), design weight is necessary: weighting factor for Western Germany: 1.23039027; weighting factor for Eastern Germany: 0.53633957; recoding of the country variable is necessary (see c_sample). The two weighting factors are stored in the weight variable.

DK: No weighting.

EE: Weighting performed based on the national statistical Office 2015 population data; weights are added for gender, age, ethnicity, urban/rural, and regions. Multilevel weighting was performed, considering all pre-defined subgroups. For each of the structural subgroup (such as men aged 15-19) the weights within the group were calculated.

ES: Design weight to adjust for unequal selection probabilities + Weight to adjust for non-response (variables used for calculation of weight: Autonomous Community (ES_REG), Size of habitat)).

FI: The design of the survey was systematic sampling. In order to improve the efficiency of estimation and to reduce bias due to non-response a calibration method was used for the creation of the weight. The following marginal distributions of the population were used: 1) gender (male, female), 2) age classes (15-24, 25-34, ..., 65-74), 3) NUTS3 regions with following modifications: the Greater Helsinki Area was dealt as a separate region, 4) type of community (urban - semi-urban - rural).

FR: Post stratification weighting computed on sex, age (4 groups: 18 to 29, 30 to 39, 40 to 54, 55 or more) and occupation (6 groups: Farmers, Tradesmen, Shopkeepers and Business Owners; Managers and Secondary/ University Teachers; Intermediate Professions, White Collar Workers; Blue Collar Workers; Unemployed)

GB-GBN: Selection weights are required because not all the units covered in the survey had the same probability of selection. The weighting reflects the relative selection probabilities of the individual at the three main stages of selection: address, DU and individual. At each stage the selection weights were trimmed to avoid a small number of very high or very low weights in the sample; such weights would inflate standard errors, reducing the precision of the survey estimates and causing the weighted sample to be less efficient. Less than one per cent of the selection weights were trimmed at each stage.

GE: Variables gender and age used for the calculation of weight.

HR: No weighting.

HU: The weighting factor has been built to meet the common frequencies of the four following demographic factors – gender, age, type of settlement and level of education (marginal statistics are derived from the latest Census data of the Central Statistical Office 2011).

IL: No weighting.

IN: Multiple weighing done on following variables: Age, Gender, Social status, Income, Education.

IS: Weighting factor to adjust for non-response bias in terms of IS_REG, AGE and SEX.

JP: No weighting.

LT: No weighting.

LV: Weighting factor constructed according to the following five population characteristics: gender, age, nationality, region and place of settlement.

MX: No weighting.

NO: No weighting.

NZ: Weighting factor adjusts for non-response bias in terms of sex, age, Māori descent, region, rurality, deprivation (neighbourhood deprivation quintiles), and occupation.

PH: Weighting variable is based on people aged 18 and above and region (NCR, Balance Luzon, Visayas, Mindanao). The weight applied was based on the 2016 census population. Computed by area.

PL: Because of household sample, the weighting factor was calculated using two stages. First stage equalized probabilities of being chosen for all respondents. Second stage was an IPF (Iterative Proportional Fitting) algorithm. It includes four variables: 1. sex (male, female), 2. age categories (18-24, 25-34, 35-49, 50-59, 60 and more years), 3. type of the place of living (urban/ rural), 4. voivodship (16 voivodships corresponding to administrative division of Poland). 5 iteration were needed to comply with the population-based distributions with precision of 7 digits after dot. Weighting procedure assumes that after weighting the sample size is equal to the number of completed interviews.

RU: 9 socio-demographic groups based on the variables sex, age and education were used for each region/ strata for the calculation of weight. The weighting procedure is based on the Census 2010.

SE: No weighting.

SI: No weighting.

SK: Weight constructed according to the following population characteristics: sex, age group (18-29, 30-39, 40-49, 50-59, 60 +), education (Lowest formal qualification, Above lowest, Higher secondary completed, University degree), size of community (7 categories: up to 1000, 1001–5000, 5001–20000, 20001–100000, over 100000) and county structure (8 categories).

SR: Weighting factor adjusts for non-response bias in terms of a) district and b) household composition (gender, age, education, main activity, relationship to head of household).

TW: The data was weighted using an iterative proportional raking scheme. For each respondent, sample data were weighted by sex, age, urbanization and education-degree groups. Weights were then generated to match the population characteristics of Taiwan.

US: The US WEIGHT variable takes into consideration a) the sub-sampling of non-respondents, and b) the number of adults in the household. It also essentially maintains the original sample size.

VE: The weight variable was constructed by multiplying the probability of selection by the post-stratification by sex and age.

ZA: Explicit stratification variables: Province, population group and geography type (viz. urban formal, urban informal, tribal and rural formal, including commercial farms). Non-response adjustment = number of drawn HHs per EA (census enumerator area) / number of responding HHs (i.e. where a person 16+ is successfully interviewed) provided that at least 50% of households responded. Otherwise two similar (i.e. in the same explicit stratum) and neighbouring EAs are combined and a combined adjustment factor calculated. Person and household weights are benchmarked, for persons using province, population group, gender and 5 age groups (16-24, 25-34, 35-49, 50-59 and 60 and older) as benchmark variables and for households using province and population group of the respondent in the household. The marginal totals for the benchmark variables are obtained from the applicable midyear estimates as published by Statistics South Africa.

A post-stratification or non-response weight was calculated with the aim of rebalancing the Australian sample so the weighted sample frequencies are equal to the expected frequencies in population in a the three-way tabulation by age group (five groups), sex, and highest level of education (five levels) .

The cross tabulation by age, sex and highest level of education from the Australian population was done using the 2011 Census Table Builder. A table was created using sex and age (single years) in the rows, and Australian Citizenship, and education in the columns. The final table was created by excluding those who did not have Australian citizenship (this included those who did not state their citizenship). Individuals with no stated year of schooling and schooling up to and including year 12 were combined into one category.

2017-04-28

In the sample not all individuals had complete information on both age, sex and year of schooling. However imputations of weight were used to deal so that all individuals were assigned a weight even if they had missing data.

When age was missing, in some cases, this was imputed from other information available in the questionnaire. If age was missing but the person was retired, the respondent's age was estimated to be equal to the mean for retired people of that sex. For people who were missing on gender, they had a weight allocated to them that was the average of the weights over gender for their level of education and age.

To avoid extreme weights, the weights were trimmed at the 1 per cent and 99 per cent level, before being rescaled so that they averaged to one across all cases in each subsample.

Known systematic properties of sample:

Gross sample

Using a sampling frame derived from the AEC Electoral Roll (2012) excludes permanent and temporary residents of Australia (who are not citizens) and any other adults in Australia who are non-citizens except for British subjects on a Commonwealth electoral roll as at 25 January 1984. These exclusions amount to approximately 8 percent of the adult population. Citizens are able to provisionally enrol at the age of 17 but are unable to vote until they turn 18.

Net sample

The sample demographics were compared with statistics available from the Australian Bureau of Statistics (ABS) including the 2011 Census. The major biases are: age (median age is older than the Census population), education (under-representation of persons who had only completed year 10 or below).

Weight present: yes
Weighting procedure: In order to deliver one integrated harmonized data file for Belgium post stratification weights were calculated based upon age (three age groups: 18-39; 40-59; 60+), sex, and geographical classification (NUTS1 Flemish Region, Walloon Region, Brussels Capital Region). These characteristics are known for all sampled units and the population distributions are published by the Belgian Institute for National Statistics (ADS). The age-sex distribution in each region is reproduced by the weights as well as the distribution over the regions.
The result of this weighting procedure in combination with the sampling design is that the weights for respondents of the Brussels Capital Region are much smaller than the weights for the respondents of the Flemish and Walloon regions.
The use of adequate software is always necessary when analysing data with weights, but with these data it is vitally important when comparing the regions or analysing only one region separately.

The weights were scaled to make the weighted sample size equal to the unweighted sample size.

ISSP Study Description Form

Please use this form for reporting on Module 2006 and later!

Study title: National Public Opinion Study N°44

Fieldwork dates: Start date: 2015-04-06
End date: 2015-05-03

Principal investigators: Ricardo Gonzalez T. / Centro de Estudios Publicos (CEP)

Sample type: The methodological principle guiding CEP's public opinion program is that effective and accurate survey research must be based on a truly representative sample of a given universe. For CEP's purpose, this universe are adults living in Chile, 18 years and older.

Our studies use probability sampling. The sample is designed in three stages, such that all adults across the country have a measurable probability of being selected into the sample. The 2002 Census data are used to define the structure of people of 18 years and older of all regions. Then, each region is stratified by rural and urban zones.

Sampling Stages

First Stage

The first stage of the sampling process sets the number of completed interviews per cluster at 6; a cluster is defined as a block (manzana) or populated entity (entidad).<sup>1</sup> The application of 6 interviews per cluster to the total number of interviews targeted in the sample (1,872) yields 312 primary sampling units (PSUs) to be identified in the first stage of sample selection. PSUs are proportionally distributed across Chile's regions, accounting for the region's contribution to population (both urban and rural).

Using the most reliable digital information on hand to date (i.e. 2002 census data), a list of population by province (provincia), municipality (comuna), district (distrito), zone (zona) and block (manzana) was made in the urban case; and by province, municipality, district, locality (localidad) and entity (entidad) was made in the rural case (geographically arranged). In both cases a fixed interval is set for each region by dividing the total population for that region by the number of PSU's assigned to it. Within each region, a purely random selection process is followed, such that each individual (as represented by population data) has a measurable probability of being selected as a PSU.

This is carried out through a computerised, random, proportionate-to-population process to select blocks (entities) in urban (rural) areas. A computer program was developed to select the urban blocks and the rural entities for the sample. All blocks and entities are identified by a number and located on a census map.

Second Stage

The second stage in the sampling process is to select households (dwellings) within PSUs. Selection rules for households are provided to interviewers so they can select them randomly within each block or entity drawn during the first stage. After taking a census of each selected block and entity, a random walk or systematic sampling procedure is followed, whereby every *n*th dwelling is included in the sample until a total of 6 households are identified.

Third Stage

During the third stage, the interviewer selects an adult, within each household, using a random number table to identify the person to be interviewed.

Weight present: Yes

Weighting procedure: A weighting procedure is applied in order to correct for distortions in the representativeness of the sample using three variables: Gender (male or female), Age (grouped in five categories: 18-24 years, 25-34 years, 35-44 years, 45-54 years, 55 years and older) and Urbanity (urban or rural). This makes it possible to obtain a sample with characteristics similar to those of the population. The weights are constructed by calculating the quotient between the expected distribution and the observed one crossing these three variables. The expected distribution is obtained from the 2002 census data provided by the National Institute of Statistics. The result of the weighting slightly corrects for problems of under- and over-representation among certain specific groups of the population.

Sample type: Delivery address database of the Czech Post was used for sampling frame construction. This database contains the addresses of all objects (approximately 1.8 million residential properties), including the number of dwellings within them but without the names. The stratified random sampling was realized in 3 steps. In the first step 373 sampling points (postal districts or their parts) were randomly selected within each stratum (region and community size) proportionally. Dwellings within clusters were selected using systematic random sampling method. Kish grid method was used for random selection of the respondents.

Sampling-procedure: A representative sample (simple random sample) was drawn from the Central Population Register (CPR) – which is a national register of all Danish citizens – from which respondent's name and address were identified. Thus, the sampled unit was 'named individuals'.
 Younger men are a bit over-sampled because their response rate is generally lower. Apart from that no stratification, clustering etc. was employed.

ISSP Study Description Form

Please use this form for reporting on Module 2006 and later!

Study title: Orientaciones hacia el trabajo/Work orientations 2015 (ISSP)

Fieldwork dates: 2016.04.11- 2016-06.29 (this module has been fielded together with the 2016 "Role of Government" (in Spanish, "Ciudadanos y el Estado").

Principal investigators: Mónica Méndez Lago (mmendez@cis.es)

Sample type: Stratified two-stage sample design. The strata are obtained by crossing two population classification criteria. The first criterion is the Autonomous Community, or region of residence. There are 17 of them plus another one grouping the North-African autonomous cities of Ceuta and Melilla. The second criterion used is the size of habitat classified in seven brackets: "2,001 inhabitants or less/2,001-10,000/10,001-50,000/50,001-100,000/100,001-400,000/400,001-1,000,000-1,000,001 and over".

Primary sampling units are census sections. They are randomly selected within each strata proportionally to the resident population aged 18 and over. Individuals within census section are selected from each section by the National Statistics Institute (Instituto Nacional de Estadística INE, National Statistical Institute) using a systematic selection procedure. To avoid the selection of members of the same household, the list is ordered by dwelling number.

The sampling frame used is the Continuous Population Register (Padron Continuo), as of January 2015.

Weight present: Yes

Weighting procedure: Weights have been used to compensate for non-response. They have been calculated using the two variables initially used for the stratification of the sample: Autonomous Communities, CCAA-h-, (E_REG), and Size of Municipality -k- (Tamaño de Habitat).

Algorithm:

$$\hat{P} = \frac{1}{n^r} \cdot \sum_{h=1}^H \sum_{k=1}^K \sum_{i=1}^{n_{h,k}^r} w_{i,h,k} \cdot y_{i,h,k}$$

where,

$n^r$  , is the size of the sample collected

$n_{h,k}^r$  , is the size of the sample collected in strata h,k

$w_{i,h,k}$  : final weight, defined as

$$w_{i,h,k} = \frac{1}{N} \cdot \frac{1}{\pi_{i,h,k}^*} \cdot n^r = \frac{1}{N} \cdot \frac{1}{\pi_{i,h,k} \cdot r_{h,k}} \cdot n^r = \frac{n^r}{N} \cdot \frac{N_{h,k}}{n_{h,k}^r}$$

where,

$\pi_i$  , is the inclusion probability for i element

$r_{h,k}$  , is the response rate in the strata h,k

$N_{h,k}$  , is the population size in the strata h, k; and,

$N$ , is the population size.

Weight present: Yes

Weighting procedure: The design of the survey was systematic sampling. In order to improve the efficiency of estimation and to reduce bias due to non-response a calibration method was used for the creation of the weigh.

The following marginal distributions of the population were used:

- 1) gender (male, female),
- 2) age classes (15–24, 25–34,..., 65–74),
- 3) NUTS3 regions with following modifications: the Greater Helsinki Area was dealt as a separate region,
- 4) type of community (urban - semi-urban - rural).

Known systematic properties of sample:

Sampling frame is updated and covers total population with the appropriate language restriction. A cross-sectional sample does not contain attrition by definition.

After having used our standard sampling procedures for over 20 years, we have not encountered any bias due to using systematic sampling. Design effect of the sampling procedure  $\leq 1$  by definition.

Deviations from ISSP questionnaire:

List of deviations and coding specifications compared to ISSP source questionnaire:

- 1) AGE (at the end of year 2015)

Age is computed from a variable for year of birth in the Finnish questionnaire.

- 2) FI_REG

Added from register data on regions. The Finnish questionnaire did not include a question for this.

- 3) WEIGHT

Weight is a weight that expands the results to the population level (the sum of the weights is the size of the 15-74 population)

Study title: British Social Attitudes 2015

Fieldwork dates: 2015-07-06 to 2015-11-06

Principal investigators: Liz Clery, Miranda Phillips
National Centre for Social Research (NatCen Social Research)

Sample type: Adults aged 18+ living in private households in Great Britain excluding areas north of the Caledonian Canal. Clustered random sample: addresses were selected in a stratified clustered design. One person aged 18+ was interviewed per address. If there are more than two adults at an address, the adult to be interviewed is selected randomly.

Fieldwork institute: National Centre for Social Research (NatCen Social Research)

Fieldwork methods: The ISSP module is implemented as a self-completion questionnaire, completed by the respondent after the main face-to-face interview and collected by the interviewer or posted by the respondent.

N. of respondents: 1793

Details about issued sample:

Please follow the standards laid down in AAPOR/WAPOR, Standard Definitions: http://www.aapor.org/uploads/standarddefs\_4.pdf. The numbers in the parentheses are those used in Tables 2 and 3 of Standard Definitions.

* When new sample units are added during the field period via a new dwelling units list or other standard updating procedure, these additional issued units are added to the starting number of units to make up the total gross sample size. Also, when substitution is used, the total must include the originally drawn cases plus all substitute cases. See AAPOR/WAPOR Standard Definitions, pp. 9-10 for further clarification.

Language(s): English

Weight present: yes

Weighting procedure: Selection weights are required because not all the units covered in the survey had the same probability of selection. The weighting reflects the relative selection probabilities of the individual at the three main stages of selection: address, DU and individual. First, because addresses in Scotland were selected using the MOI, weights were needed to compensate for the greater probability of an address with an MOI of more than one being selected, compared with an address with an MOI of one. (This stage was omitted for the English and Welsh data). Secondly, data were weighted to compensate for the fact that a DU at an address that contained a large number of DUs was less likely to be selected for inclusion in the survey than a DU at an address that contained fewer DUs. (We used this procedure because in most cases where the MOI is greater than one, the two stages will cancel each other out, resulting in more efficient weights). Thirdly, data were weighted to compensate for the lower selection probabilities of adults living in large households, compared with those in small households.

At each stage the selection weights were trimmed to avoid a small number of very high or very low weights in the sample; such weights would inflate standard errors, reducing the precision of the survey estimates and causing the weighted sample to be less efficient. Less than one per cent of the selection weights were trimmed at each stage.

Sample excludes Scotland north of the Caledonian Canal.

Sample type: A four-stage sampling procedure was deployed. As a frame of areas, electoral units from 2014 General Population Census by National Department for Statistics (GeoStat) was used. The electoral units (clusters) were identified in each stratum (urban/rural settings) based on the following principle: On average 8 interviews were supposed to be conducted in each electoral unit. In the selected election units/polling stations (PSU) one randomly selected starting address is given to the interviewer who is also instructed to select every 8th household both in urban and rural areas. S/he is also given instruction in which direction to move. Each 8th household was identified at selected streets. In case no one was available at a selected household, the interviewer returned later. In case of three unsuccessful visits to a specific household, the latter was excluded from the survey without substitution by a neighboring household. The interviewing was continued with the next 8th household (e.g. 16th from the previous valid interview). A respondent was identified within a selected household.

Stratified random multi-staged sample: level of settlements, level of household, level of individual.

Two-way stratification: by 6 regions (defined as the traditional groups of counties) and 4 settlement sizes (defined by the number of residents). The size of each stratum is based on the proportion of the number of 18+ residents within the stratum in the total 18+ population.

Multistage sampling procedure:

1. Selection of primary sampling units (settlements) was conducted by the "probability proportionate to size" method. Each settlement had a probability of being in the sample proportionate to its population size. The selection of settlements was based on a random sampling procedure. All settlements in a stratum were alphabetically ordered and their respective populations were cumulated. Assignment of random numbers from cumulative population of all settlement was conducted. Those settlements under which randomly assigned numbers fell into were chosen. Within each primary sampling unit, the "random starting points method" was used to select starting points. There were 100 starting points in total. On average allocation of 10 respondents was assigned to each starting point.

2. Selection of households within the starting points was conducted by the "random walk method". Interviewers were instructed to follow a specified route from the starting point, conducting an interview at every 6th dwelling/housing unit (systematic sampling). Non-contacts were re-visited 5 times before being declared as non-response.

3. Selection of the respondent within a household was conducted by random selection by last birthday key.

Fieldwork dates: 2017-02-10 to 2017-04-03.

Principal investigators: Research team of Instituto de Mercadotecnia y Opinión (IMO) integrated by César Morones, Mauricio Morán and Felipe Palacios.

Sample type: The survey was based upon a multi stage stratified random sample through one partition of the universe of the national population aged 18 years and over, and three selection stages for the urban and the rural cases.

The partition within each stratum the universe was divided by urban (more than 2,500 inhabitants) and rural zones (less than 2,500 inhabitants).

First selection stage: After the assigned cases for stratum, AGEB's were selected.

Second selection stage: Within each selected AGEB were chosen the households.

Third selection stage: It was selected the individual respondent by using the Kish Grid Method.

The AGEB means Basic Geo-Statistic Area, they are perfectly defined geographical units and with inhabitants group with known demographic and economic variables, its delimitation is smaller than the municipality and it facilitates studies for clusters.

Weight present: Yes

Weighting procedure: The following seven variables were available on the electoral roll to allow us to determine whether or not the sample respondents were representative of those 2,500 randomly sampled: sex, age, Māori descent, region, rurality, NZ Deprivation Index quintiles, and occupation. Comparisons revealed that the 901 sample was older, contained fewer individuals of Māori descent, under-represented those from Auckland, over-represented those in rural areas, and under-represented those in deprived living areas.

To account for this pattern of over- and under-representation, weights were computed based on the inverse probability of responding. This was achieved by conducting a logistic regression with responded (yes/no) as the outcome, and each of the variables above – except rurality – included as predictors. Rurality was excluded from the model as it was found that the slight deviation from representativeness in this factor could be corrected by including region in the model. Sex was included in the model to ensure that the weights did not inadvertently over-weight one sex relative to the other, and also to allow for the possibility of sex interactions. A main effects model was first computed, and then all fifteen two-way interactions were tested in separate models. Only one interaction was found to be significant – sex x age – so this and all main effects were included in the final model.

From the final model, a predicted probability of response was generated for each respondent based on their covariates. This probability was then inverted and standardised to have mean=1 to form a response weight, which ranged from 0.46 – 6.22 across the n=901 respondents. The effect of weighting variable was then assessed. This was done by applying the weighting variable to the 901-case dataset and comparing the result with the 2,500 random sample. All percentage counts appeared equivalent across the samples.

Study title: International Social Survey Programme 2015

26.06.2015

Principal investigators: Marcin W. Zieliński
Tomasz Jerzyński
The Robert B. Zajonc Institute for Social Studies, University of Warsaw (ISS UW)

Sample type: Households were selected using the three - stage stratified sampling method. Prior to sampling, they were stratified by Voivodeship and then within Voivodeships by the class of the place of residence into large towns (with more than 100,000 inhabitants), small towns (with fewer than 100,000 inhabitants) and rural areas. For urban strata, statistical regions (covering at least 250 dwellings) were the primary sampling units (PSUs) in particular Voivodeships, while statistical districts were the PSUs for rural strata. At the second stage, two dwellings from the randomly generated list of dwellings were drawn systematically in separation for each of the strata established at the first stage. At the third stage respondents were sampled in previously selected dwellings.

Census areas were the primary sampling units, sampled with probabilities proportional to the number of dwellings they covered. Urban strata were divided into large towns with more than 100,000 residents, medium - sized towns of 20,000 - 100,000 and small towns with fewer than 20,000. Furthermore, in five largest cities the strata covered individual districts. At the second stage, three dwellings were sampled per census area in large towns, four per area in medium - sized ones and five per area in the smallest towns. Six dwellings were sampled for rural areas.

3266 dwellings were randomly subsampled from the panel sample for the purposes of the ISSP study.

Weighting procedure: Because of household sample weighting factor was calculated using two stages. First stage equalized probabilities of being chosen for all respondents. Second stage was IPF (Iterative Proportional Fitting) algorithm. It includes four variables:

1. sex (male, female)
2. age categories (18-24, 25-34, 35-49, 50-59, 60 and more years)
3. type of the place of living (urban/rural)
4. voivodship (16 voivodships corresponding to administrative division of Poland)

5 iteration were needed to comply with the population-based distributions with precision of 7 digits after dot.
Weighting procedure assumes that after weighting the sample size is equal to the number of completed interviews.

Study title: Work Orientations «Courier» (Monthly Omnibus Study)

Fieldwork dates: 2015-03-26 till 2015-03-31

Principal investigators: Ludmila Khakhulina, Levada Analytical Center (Levada-Center)

Sample type: The module “Work Orientations” was fielded as a part of a larger survey - the omnibus survey “The Courier” which is based on the nationwide, multi-stage, stratified and probability sample (N=1600) that represents the adult population in age 18+ .

On the first stage urban settlements and rural administrative districts as primary sampling units were selected.

Stratification. The nationwide sample (N=1600) was divided among:

- a) 8 federal regions (1 - North-Western, 2 - Central, 3 -Volga, 4 - Southern, 5 - North Caucasian, 6 - Ural, 7 - Siberian, and 8 - Far Eastern)
- b) within each district – among 5 strata of settlements proportionally to a number of its population in age of 18+ years:
  - 1) cities > 1,000 000 inhabitants
  - 2) cities 500 000 - 1,000 000 inhabitants
  - 3) cities 100 000 – 500 000
  - 4) urban settlements < 100 000 inhabitants
  - 5) rural settlements

If to take into account that in the North-West region there are no cities of 500-1,000 thousands of residents, in the Far East region there are no cities of more then 1,000 thousands of residents, in North Caucasia there are no cities more then 500,000 residents the total number of strata is 37.

Selection of primary sampling units (PSUs). All cities over 1,000,000 inhabitants are included in the sample as self-representative units.

Urban settlements and rural districts were considered as primary sample units (PSUs). In each stratum (except stratum of cities over 1,000,000 inhabitants) the number of PSUs was calculated with the limitation of 7-13 interviews per PSU and the PSUs as well are selected with the probability proportionally to the size (PPS). The total numbers of interviews accounted for a stratum were distributed approximately equally among selected PSUs. Totally 134 PSUs are selected including 97 urban and 37 rural PSUs.

On the second stage the secondary sampling units (SSUs) are randomly selected from the lists of electoral districts (blocks, streets) in urban settlements and villages in rural districts.

The number of surveyed SSUs was defined by condition of 7-13 interviews per SSU (at least 2 SSUs per PSU; 12 SSUs were selected in Moscow, 5 SSUs - in S-Petersburg).

Totally about 281 SSUs are selected.

On the third stage the households are selected by a random route method.

On the fourth stage one household member is selected by the next birthday to the date of the interview.

If members of a household refuse to participate in the survey, an interviewer is required to visit the next address from the route list. If nobody at home or a member of a household selected as a respondent refused to participate in the survey, or if a household or a respondent was not achieved for a visit, the interviewer was required to follow the next address from the route list. Substitutions of addresses were not allowed.

Language(s): Russian

Weight present: yes

Weighting procedure: The expected number  $N$  of respondents for a region/stratum was treated equal  $N = N_0 * P$ , where  $N_0$  - the sample size,  $P$  - the share of the population of a region/stratum in the entire population.

The procedure of weighting was aimed at minimization of sum of squares of deviation of weighted survey data and statistical data by each of 9 socio-demographic groups by sex, age, education in each region/strata.

As a result of correction, every respondent  $X[k]$  becomes supplied with definite weight coefficient  $W[k]$  being within the limits  $0 < W[k] < \sim 5$ , so that the following conditions were valid:

- 1) the value of  $\sum(W[k])$  for a region/stratum concerned was equal to  $N$  and
- 2) for every controlled socio-demographic group  $G[i]$  the value  $Q[i]$  - a proportion of a group  $G(i)$  in the weighted survey data - was equal to  $Q[i] = \sum(W[ik]) / N$ , where  $[ik]$  means that respondent  $R_k$  belongs to a group  $G[i]$ , and  $Q[i] \sim P[i]$ ,  $i=1,2,\dots,9$ ; i.e.  $Q[i]$  is close to  $P[i]$  where  $P[i]$  was a proportion of a group  $G[i]$  in the population of a region/stratum

The value of  $J$  serves as the criterion for minimization of the weights' coefficient variety being equal to the sum of squares:

$$J = \sum((Q[i]-P[i])2) + (\sum(W[k])/N - 1)2.$$

The set of values of  $J$  depends on the deviation of the survey data from the statistics. Used software programs are aimed at selecting the minimum value of  $J$  among them.

The weighting procedure is based on the Census 2010.

Principal investigators: Drs. Regien Riedewald, Anton de Kom University of Suriname

Sample type: The sample was obtained from ABS (General Bureau of Statistics Suriname). It consisted of the following steps:

- Strata: all 13 (sub-)districts * urban/rural subdistricts were represented.
- Clusters: 94 PSU's were randomly selected within the subdistricts, proportional to size.
- For each PSU 15 addresses were obtained, using systematic random sampling within PSU (addresses are ordered by location). In the Interior subdistricts, where there is no proper address system, names of head of households substituted the addresses.
- Interviewers obtained a response form with the address or name of head of household. In case an address was uninhabited, they were instructed to go for the nearest inhabited dwelling to the right.
- Within household: selection was random by a birthday method. Each response form contained a random date and interviewers were instructed to interview the household member aged 21-74, whose birthday was first after this random date.

Study title: South African Social Attitudes Survey (SASAS)

Fieldwork dates: start dates: October 2015, end date March 2016

Principal investigators: Jare Struwig –Human Sciences Research Council

Sample type: A sample of 3500 respondents was selected throughout South Africa in 500 census enumerator areas (EAs) as determined in the 2001 census. Each EA was classified in terms of the dominant lifestyle category by the Human Sciences Research Council (HSRC) in its analysis of the 1996 census data. In order to ensure adequate representation in the sample from each province and from each of the four dominant population groups, the sample was stratified by province and by population group. Disproportionately large samples were selected from areas known to be inhabited by the two smallest components of the population, namely (i) areas with dominantly Indian populations and (ii) the Northern Cape. Within the EAs, the households were randomly selected and within the household, the respondent was selected using a Kish grid.

for further clarification.

Language(s): English, Afrikaans, Tsonga, Tswana, Xhosa, Zulu

Weight present: Yes

Weighting procedure: Explicit stratification variables: Province, population group and geography type (viz. urban formal, urban informal, tribal and rural formal, including commercial farms).

The EA (census enumerator area) is used as PSU (primary sampling unit) and the number of households (HHs) in the EA as the MOS (measure of size). EA's are drawn within the explicit strata pps and a fixed number of households drawn per drawn EA. Within each drawn HH one person 16 years or older is drawn at random using Kish's grid.

Non-response adjustment = number of drawn HHs per EA / number of responding HHs (i.e. where a person 16+ is successfully interviewed) provided that at least 50% of households responded. Otherwise two similar (i.e. in the same explicit stratum) and neighbouring EAs are combined and a combined adjustment factor calculated.

Person and household weights are benchmarked using the SAS CALMAR macro and province, population group, gender and 5 age groups (i.e. 16-24, 25-34, 35-49, 50-59 and 60 and older) as benchmark variables for persons and province and population group of the respondent in the household for households as benchmark variables. The marginal totals for the benchmark variables are obtained from the applicable midyear estimates as published by Statistics South Africa. In other words, the estimated South African population for the applicable year is used as target population.

Rescaling not explicitly but only implicitly

I assume that this question relates to whether sample sizes are rescaled with the view to do cross-tabulating analyses using STATA. Sub-class analyses are done by using SAS surveymeans, using the "domain" facility.

ISSP Characteristics of National Population

Each ISSP member is asked to include to the documentation the following information about known characteristics of its national population, from census or the best available estimates from government surveys or other high-quality data-sources:

- sex distribution of the population
- age distribution of the population

The unemployed comprise all persons of working age who were: a) without work during the reference period, i.e. were not in paid employment or self-employment; b) currently available for work, i.e. were available for paid employment or self-employment during the reference period; and c) seeking work, i.e. had taken specific steps in a specified recent period to seek paid employment or self-employment. For purposes of international comparability, the period of job search is often defined as the preceding four weeks, but this varies from country to country.

The specific steps taken to seek employment may include registration at a public or private employment exchange; application to employers; checking at worksites, farms, factory gates, market or other assembly places; placing or answering newspaper advertisements; seeking assistance of friends or relatives; looking for land, building, machinery or equipment to establish own enterprise; arranging for financial resources; and applying for permits and licences.
