ISSP Background Variable Documentation

Environment IV / ISSP2020

SPAIN

The ISSP 2020 Environment module was carried out in Spain with a “push to web+paper/postal” design, i.e. using a self-completion sequential mode (online+paper questionnaire). The question number included in this report corresponds to the paper questionnaire.

All questions had the option of “no answer”, advancing the questionnaire in the online version and leaving it blank in the paper one (this was explicitly mentioned in the instructions for respondents. An explicit “I prefer not to answer” was included in a few questions in two instances: 1) for programming reasons when a code associated with no answer was needed in order to establish the routing of the questionnaire; 2) in questions such as vote recall or income, to make sure the respondent was not leaving the question blank by mistake.

Interviewer Instructions
Translation Note
Note	Data to construct PARTY_LR come from the mean location of parties in the left-right scale in surveys CIS Study 3263 (October 2019) and CIS study 3388 (December 2022), as well as from the 2014 Chapel Hill Expert Survey (see appendix). See Liesbet Hooghe, Ryan Bakker, Anna Brigeovich, Catherine de Vries, Erica Edwards, Gary Marks, Jan Rovny, Marco Steenbergen, Milada Vachudova (2010), "Reliability and Validity of Measuring Party Positions: The Chapel Hill Expert Surveys of 2002 and 2006," European Journal of Political Research, 42 (4): 684-703. Parties with codes 05, 07 to 12 and 15 are non-state wide parties, i.e. regionalist/nationalist parties (or coalitions that include this type of party) whose main axis of identification/electoral competition is not only the left-right one, but also centre-periphery (codes 08 to 12 and 15), or just regionally based parties that so far have participated in general elections forming alliances with the new party Podemos (codes 05 and 07). Unidas Podemos (code 03) is the electoral alliance formed by Podemos and the United Left for the 2019 general elections (to which the question refers to).
