It is said that people do not have time for each other. That is why the Institute of Sociology together with SC&C agency decided to conduct the research studying how frequently do people contact their relatives and friends, how do they choose friends and provide help to each other, whom do they address when in need, as well as how often do they speak about politics. Also we would like to question you concerning your attitudes toward different events in our society. All the information you provide to me will remain confidential and will be used only anonymous. May I ask you to collaborate with us?
